CHOU OFFERS TO TALK TO U.S. ON FORMOSA; DULLES SAYS CHIANG MUST BE INCLUDED

'RED' SMITH IS FOUND GUILTY OF EVADING $9976 IN TAXES

Gangster Faces Possible 5 Years in Jail, $10,000 Fine — Freed on Bond After Sealed Verdict Is Opened.

Louis C. (Red) Smith, one-time member of the notorious old Egan gang, was convicted of income tax evasion today by a jury in the court of United States District Judge George H. Moore.

The jury, which found Smith guilty of evading payment of $9976 in taxes in 1947, reached its verdict late yesterday, but the verdict was sealed and not opened until this morning. Maximum penalty is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Members of the jury were polled at the request of defense attorney Morris Shenker, and Judge Moore then set May 9 as a deadline for filing a motion for a new trial. Arguments will be heard May 12 and sentencing will follow if the motion is overruled.

16 Years in Leavenworth.

Smith, who served 16 years in Leavenworth Penitentiary for his part in a $54,000 Staunton (Ill.) mail robbery in 1923, was permitted to remain at liberty on $2000 bond pending sentence.

Smith's conviction in the income tax case came after a five-day trial in which the Government evidence was based on the growth of his net worth. Evidence presented by prosecution witnesses showed that Smith's net worth increased from $11,246 in December 1946 to $34,250 in December 1947.

The defense attempted to show, by cross examination of Government witnesses and introduction of exhibits, that most of Smith's apparent net worth increase was due to loans he received from John P. Connor, former operator of the old Hyde Park Club, and Frank (Buster) Wortman, East Side gang leader.

'Dinty' Colbeck Associate.

Smith, now 62 years old and with the appearance of a successful business executive, was an associate in his youth of the late William P. (Dinty) Colbeck, who succeeded William Egan as head of the Egan gang; David (Chippy) Robinson, Steve Ryan, the late Oliver Dougherty, the late Frank Hackethal and the late Frank (Cotton) Eppelsheimer.

In the 1920s, the gang participated in open warfare with members of the old Hogan gang over territorial rights in sale of bootleg liquor. A number of killings resulted but none was ever solved.

Smith was arrested for questioning in a number of the killings, including that of gang leader Egan. In later years he was picked up and questioned by police in the gang murders of Carl Shelton and Charles Binaggio and the attempted killing of the late Ted Cronin, operator of a taxicab company.

Smith became associated with the Chicago Capone syndicate following his release from federal custody in 1941 and was one of the key men in the syndicate's successful drive to take over the national racing wire service immediately after World War II.

Took Over Service.

With Smith's help the syndicate drove a wedge between Paul (Bev) Brown and Clarence (Gully) Owen, long associates in the racing news distribution business in the St. Louis territory, and finally took over the service in 1947. The new service was put out of business about

In Inquiry

JURY CHECKING ON LEGAL FEES PAID TO M'ATEE

Sum Was Given by Housing Authority While He Was County Counselor.

The St. Louis county grand jury, in its inquiry into the operation of a housing project at Jefferson Barracks, is investigating fees of about $3800 John J. McAtee is said to have received as attorney for the county Housing Authority while he was county counselor, the Post-Dispatch learned today.

The county charter provides that the counselor "shall devote all of his time to the duties of his office."

McAtee has appeared before the grand jury several times in its current inquiry, which has covered purchases of propane gas, collection of trash and garbage, and other financial transactions of the Jefferson Barracks units. The Housing Authority is an independent agency.

2 Years After Appointment.

McAtee told the Post-Dispatch he received "about $3000" from the Housing Authority in 1953 and 1954, the pay starting about two years after he was appointed county counselor in January 1951.

Prior to his appointment, from 1947 through 1950, he was paid fees ranging from $1500 to $2500 a year for his work on the Jefferson Barracks project, he said. Since his resignation from the county job last Dec. 31, he has continued as attorney for the Housing Authority and has been paid about $700, he added.

Prosecuting Attorney Edward W. Garnholz refused to comment on the latest phase of the investigation.

An audit filed with the county clerk this week showed that the authority appropriated $4900 for legal and professional work in an 18-month period ended last Dec. 31.

Worked Without Pay.

McAtee recalled today that he had done considerable work on housing without pay, from the time early in 1946 when, as a civic activity, he was chairman of a county veterans housing committee.

He said he did minor legal work for the authority after his appointment as counselor in 1951, and started accepting pay only in 1953, after the volume of work increased considerably with formation of the county Housing Authority in October 1952.

He said that before accepting fees from the authority at the same time he was county counselor he made a careful check of the charter provision that the counselor "shall devote all of his time to the duties of his office."

"I felt that this work did not in any wise violate either the spirit or the letter of the charter," he said, asserting that the section in question had been construed by courts and civil service commissions to mean "all of the time necessary to perform the duties of the office."

McAtee said that in his judgment he had devoted more time than necessary to his job as

BULGANIN READY FOR TOP BIG FOUR TALKS, HE SAYS, DATE UP TO WEST

Asserts 'I Have Made My Position Clear,' Suggests Eisenhower and Eden Be Asked About the Time.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW, April 23 (AP)—Premier Bulganin said tonight he favors a "parley at the summit" but the date depends on President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden.

Bulganin told this to Western correspondents at a gala reception given by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at the Spirodonovka palace for a Polish Government delegation. The Poles are in Moscow to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Soviet-Polish mutual aid treaty.

Bulganin was questioned by Western correspondents around a buffet table.

He was asked if the Soviet proposal on a Big Four foreign ministers conference to sign the Austrian state treaty might be followed by a meeting of the four heads of government.

"Ask Eisenhower and Eden about the date," Bulganin replied. "I have made my position clear."

'Positive Attitude.'

"Do you mean by that statement that you are of a positive attitude toward a Big Four meeting?" this correspondent asked.

Bulganin nodded.

This was taken by Western correspondents to mean that Bulganin is ready to meet with the Western heads of government when the date is set.

(White House officials had no comment on Bulganin's statements about his attitude toward a conference.)

Marshal Bulganin appeared in civilian dress at the party for the Poles honoring Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and his delegation.

The white-coated Soviet Premier and Cyrankiewicz answered questions by foreign correspondents as Soviet First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan poured drinks.

The Polish Premier said he feared rearmed West Germans. But he declined to say whether there had been any discussions in the Kremlin about naming a joint commander for the eastern "NATO" forces of the Soviet Union and its east European Communist allies.

Convivial Occasion.

There was a convivial atmosphere around the banquet table. As Mikoyan poured the drinks for Western correspondents, Molotov joined the circle.

Associated Press Correspondent Stanley Johnson took pictures of the correspondents with Bulganin and Molotov. When Johnson's flash gun failed to go off, Bulganin smiled, waved his cigarette and said: "There is American technics for you. It doesn't work."

Molotov commented: "I remember at the United Nations commission in San Francisco that Secretary of State Edward Stettinius got stuck in a lift. But I still think highly of American technics."

Also among those present was Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Polish chief of staff.

Absentees included United States Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen and British Ambassador Sir William Hayter. Bohlen left this morning on a trip to central Asia and Hayter is in the Crimea on a tour.

VETERAN, 107, TO GET DIPLOMA FROM HIGH SCHOOL

CRESTVIEW, Fla., April 23 (AP)—William Allen Lundy, one of the three surviving Confederate veterans, will receive a high school diploma May 30.

The 107-year-old veteran was made an honorary member of the Cretsview High School senior class in January and will receive his honorary diploma with the class at commencement exercises.

"I guess I'm about 90 years late getting my degree from high school," Lundy said. "It was certainly nice of the kids to remember me."

G.O.P. Ramp Eaters Oil Guns For Welcome Salute to Truman

COSBY, Tenn., April 23 (AP)—Ramp-eating Republicans in this east Tennessee hill town got their rifles ready today for a 21-gun salute welcoming former President Harry Truman.

Only 20 of the 400 voters in these parts— a bastion of Old Guard Republicanism — backed him for another term in 1948.

Truman, who arrives tomorrow, competes for the place of honor with the ramp, a member of the lily family that grows wild at 3000 feet and smells and tastes something like an onion coated with garlic coated with vinegar.

It's Festival of the Ramps, an annual affair. Last year it brought out 20,000 tourists without a former President as the major attraction. This year, with Truman, 50,000 are expected.

The festivities get under way tonight with a play about mountain folk, in mountain lingo, by a local author, and will reach a climax Sunday afternoon with the Truman address.

There are other attractions. The main one is a feed of ramps cooked in fatback with barbecued chicken on the side. Proceeds go to the local Ruritan Club for civic development.

There may be political overtones. It will be the first meeting on home grounds for ambitious young Gov. Frank Clement with the former President.

David R. Large of Cosby, who spent 25 years in the federal prison service, conceived the ramp festival idea. In prison work, he says, he always ran across somebody from Cosby in for moonshining.

PEIPING CALLED ON TO RELEASE AIRMEN, AGREE TO CEASE-FIRE

State Department Also Demands 40 Civilians Be Freed, Communists Accept U.N. Plan to Seek Accord.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The United States called on Red China today to show its sincerity and accept Nationalist China as a participant as a condition to any direct negotiations on the Formosa situation.

The State Department issued a statement after consultations with President Eisenhower on Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai's offer to negotiate directly with the United States on Far East tensions, particularly in the Formosa area.

It suggested three ways in which Communist China could demonstrate its sincerity:

1. Agree to a cease-fire immediately in Formosa strait.

2. Release at once the 15 American airmen and about 40 United States civilians "it unjustly holds."

3. Accept the United Nations Security Council's "outstanding invitation" to debate ways of ending hostilities in the Formosa area.

Department officials said Secretary of State Dulles, vacationing at Duck island in Lake Ontario, was being advised of Red China's proposal for negotiations.

The department's statement was issued after Acting Secretary Herbert Hoover Jr. talked by telephone with President Eisenhower, who is weekending at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Text of Statement.

The text of the statement:

"The Department of State has received press reports concerning the statement of Chou En-lai at the Bandung conference.

"The United States always welcomes any efforts, if sincere, to bring peace to the world.

"In the Formosa region we have an ally in the free Republic of China and of course the United States would insist on free China's participation as an equal in any discussion concerning the area.

"If Communist China is sincere there are a number of obvious steps it could take to clear the air considerably and give evidence before the world of its good intentions.

"One of these would be to place in effect in the area an immediate cease-fire. It could also immediately release the American airmen and others whom it unjustly holds. Another could be the acceptance of the outstanding invitation by the Security Council of the United Nations to participate in discussions to end hostilities in the Formosa region."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said earlier the President had been "in close touch with the situation all morning." Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower had spent an hour on the phone discussing Chou's statement with him and Hoover.

State Department Press Officer Henry Suydam told reporters the United States diplomatic mission in Indonesia had relayed press acccunts of Chou's statement.

Asked how Red China could formalize these reports, Suydam replied: "It's up to them."

Since the United States accords no diplomatic recognition to Red China, official contact depends uuon such third countries as Britain.

Chou made his offer in a statement issued at the Asian-African conference in Bandung, Indonesia.

No Official Notice.

Hagerty said the United States had received "no official notification" regarding the Chou statement, but Hoover had given Mr. Eisenhower a full report on the basis of press dispatches from Bandung.

Hagerty added that he, too, had had two telephone conversations with the President regarding the development.

The President is being kept closely posted on any developments, Hagerty said.

There was no indication that the Chou statement would bring Mr. Eisenhower back to Washington in advance of his planned return late tomorrow.

A reporter with the President at Gettysburg telephoned the news of Chou's statement to Mr. Eisenhower's farm home shortly after 8 a.m.

Officials in Washington reacted with extreme caution to Chou's statement. They said, however, it may be his most determined effort so far to break out of diplomatic and economic isolation.

Pending receipt of the official version of what Chou said,

COUNTY POLICE SUPERINTENDENT IS APPOINTED

Deputy Commissioner of Philadelphia Force Accepts Job—Pay Is Set at $10,000 a Year.

Albert A. Dubois, deputy commissioner of police of Philadelphia, announced there today that he had accepted an appointment as superintendent of police in St. Louis county.

Dubois was one of more than 60 applicants for the position. His salary will be $10,000 a year.

The St. Louis County Board of Police Commissioners has said it wants Dubois to start to work here as soon as possible. The board itself, however, is not scheduled to take over police functions of the sheriff and constable until July 1.

Issues Statement.

In a statement issued in Philadelphia today, Dubois said.

"I am applying today for retirement from the Philadelphia Police Department to accept an appointment as superintendent of police of St. Louis County Police Department.

"I have been informed today that the police board of the county has announced the appointment in St. Louis.

"Contrary to recent inaccurate reports, I am not leaving this department as a result of personal dissatisfaction. Negotiations in connection with the St. Louis county position commenced over a month ago and I entered the field of selection with the full knowledge and consent of the top officials in the department and city administration."

Says Job Offers Challenge.

"I am accepting the appointment, because it offers a challenging opportunity to serve as head of a new type of police organization in a large and populous area—an opportunity I look forward to with great interest."

The comment about "personal dissatisfaction in his statement was a referenec to the fact that Albert N. Brown, also a deputy ploice commissioner, two weeks ago was elevated to the rank of first deputy commissioner and chief of staff, although he is 10 years Dubois's junior in point of service.

Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons said Dubois was one of the best administrators in the department. He is 50 years old and a registered Democrat, although ht was not active in politics.

Dubois's salary in Philadelphia has been $10,000 annually. His pension upon retirement from the Philadelphia position will be about $3500 a year.

As superintendent of police in the county, Dubois will have policing powers in unincorporated areas and in municipalities which have a contract for police protection with the county board of police commissioners.

BRITAIN IS 'INTERESTED' IN CHOU EN-LAI'S OFFER, 'ANY IDEA' FOR SETTLEMENT

LONDON, April 23 (AP). BRITAIN expressed official interest today in the offer by Premier Chou En-lai of Red China to negotiate directly with the United States on the Formosa area and other Far East problems.

"Britain is interested in any idea which might provide a basis for settlement," a Foreign Office spokesman commented. That was all he would say.

Nevertheless, it seemed likely Chou's offer would get a warm welcome in this country, which has long wanted a peaceful settlement of the Formosa situation.

DAYLIGHT TIME TOMORROW, HOUR LOSS OF SLEEP

Residents of the St. Louis area will be getting up an hour earlier than their neighbors in the rest of the state tomorrow morning. That's because daylight saving time goes into effect at 2 a.m.

Some will be delighted, some saddened and many confused. This is the only area of Missouri where persons will be turning their clocks ahead one hour to conserve daylight for gardeners, golfers and others who need and like more sunlight at the end of the day.

It will be harder for some mothers to get children to bed on time, but they might be reminded of the words of William Willett, an Englishman, who fathered daylight saving time. He wrote: "While daylight surrounds us, cheerfulness reigns and courage is bred for the struggle of life."

Most railroads, radio and television stations, airlines and bus lines will revise schedules to conform with "fast time." And that hour of sleep lost Sunday morning will be regained when daylight saving ends Sept. 24.

MAN IS ARRESTED IN THEFTS FROM FOOD WAREHOUSE

Suspect Admits Stealing From Building, Police Say — Loss Put at $25,000.

Richard Allen Martin has admitted stealing produce and other grocery items from Associated Grocers warehouse, 1229 North Second street, where he was employed, in a series of thefts that started last September, police said today.

Martin told officers he obtained about $5000 when he sold the stolen articles to produce dealers and grocers. An official of Associated Grocers said $25,000 worth of goods was missing.

Three 16-year-old youths, who Martin said he hired for $5 a week to help him, were turned over to Juvenile Court authorities. A temporary warrant charging burglary was issued against Martin.

Edward Strecker, manager of the produce department of the warehouse, reported the thefts to Police Capt. Edmund Doherty of Carr District last Wednesday.

Lt. Roy White and several policemen went to the warehouse with Strecker and as they approached the place, they said, they saw Martin and a youth walking east on Biddle street, nearby.

The officers and Strecker hid behind a freight car. After a while Martin and the youth came out the front door of the warehouse. They were not carrying anything, but Lt. White arrested them.

After questioning, Martin said he had seen the police patrol car and "had a feeling" something was wrong, "so I didn't take anything."

Martin said he told the youths who helped him that he was filling orders for merchants. The helpers did not know he was stealing the articles, he stated.

Martin, who lives in the 2400 block of South Thirteenth street, was convicted of grand larceny in 1950 and served a year in the City Workhouse, police records showed.

RED SPOKESMAN INSISTS PARLEY WOULD EXCLUDE TAIPEI REGIME

Premier Suggests Discussing Other Factors of Far East Tension—Move Termed Peace Offensive.

By OLEN CLEMENTS

BANDUNG, Indonesia, April 23 (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China offered today to negotiate with the United States on tensions in the Far East, including the Formosa area.

In a move interpreted as the launching of a new Communist peace offensive in Asia, Chou issued this formal statement at the Asian-African conference:

"The Chinese people are friendly to the American people. The Chinese people do not want to have a war with the United States of America.

"The Chinese government is willing to sit down and enter into negotiations with the United States to discuss the question of relaxing tension in the Far East, especially the question of relaxing tension in the Taiwan (Formosa) Area."

Premier Mohammed Ali of Pakistan said he had forwarded Chou's statement to Washington with some suggestions of his own.

'A Great Move.'

"I think it is a great move for relaxing tension, particularly in the critical Far East," Ali added. "It was my understanding that the negotiations would wait for an answer from the United States."

The United States, however, does not recognize the Communist Chinese government.

The Chou statement was issued after an informal luncheon conference that included representatives of the Colombo powers, sponsors of the Asian-African meeting, Thailand, China and the Philippines. The five Colombo powers are India, Indonesia, Pakistan, Ceylon and Burma.

Chou had told the luncheon conference that Peiping was ready to negotiate on Formosa, but did not specifically single out the United States as he did in the formal statement, delegates present said.

Burma's Premier U Nu, who has assumed the role of an East-West negotiator and plans a trip to the United States, called Chou's statement "a good step toward ending world tension."

Prime Minister Nehru of India refused immediate comment.

Chou did not give out the Formosa statement himself. It was distributed by Red China's chief press representative at Bandung.

Immediately after the statement was made public, a Chinese delegation spokesman was asked whether there was anything to be added to Chou's brief declaration.

"We Will Await Response."

"We will now await the response to the statement," the spokesman replied.

Asked if this meant that China now favored a 10-power Formosa conference as has been proposed by the Soviet Union, the spokesman said:

"This means we want direct negotiations."

(The proposal was certain to displease the Chinese Nationalists because a Communist spokesman, Kang Mao-chao, said Chou meant only "direct negotiations with the United States" and that he specifically excluded Chiang Kai-shek, a United Press report said.

(The spokesman said Chou was not referring to a 10-power conference, which had been suggested by Russia and rejected by the United States because Nationalist China was not invited to discuss its own future.

(The spokesman said Red China was depending on the world's news agencies to transmit Chou's statement to Washington and that it would not be sent through diplomatic channels.

(Asked specifically whether Chiang would be included in such a conference, the spokesman said, "I do not think so. No. No. The talks would be vis-a-vis the United States.")

There was no elaboration from Communist sources at the conference on what Red China would consider a basis for negotiations concerning the Formosa area.

Last Feb. 3 Red China rejected a bid from the United Nations for talks on a cease-fire in Formosa strait. Only this week U.N. Secretary General

Bishop Says Equality of Sexes Increases Moral Delinquency

BLACKPOOL, England, April 23 (AP)—A Church of England bishop, who says he does not believe in the equality of the sexes, blames women's efforts to be something they were never meant to be for much of today's moral delinquency.

Speaking last night to a local organization which looks after young girls, the Rt. Rev. Allee Hoskyns-Abrahall, Bishop of Lancaster, said that to put men and women on an equal basis "when they are psychologically and physically so entirely different can lead to some awful trouble."

"I do not believe in equality of the sexes and, please God, I never will," the 51-year-old bishop added. "What do most bright things today mean by equality?—the freedom to behave as a man behaves.

"They try to add to their natural female vices and then feel they have reached man's status. They haven't. They have sunk below it."

The bishop, who is married and has three children, said women are the stronger sex. "They have proved that time and time again by their courage," he said, "by the way they bear pain and by the sacrifices they make for their homes and families."

STOCK-BUYING MARGIN BOOSTED TO 70 PCT. BY RESERVE BOARD

Increase From 60 Pct. Designed to Check Use of Credit in Purchase of Shares on Rising Market.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) —Starting today, investors must put up at least 70 per cent cash in buying stocks.

The Federal Reserve Board last night boosted margin requirements from 60 per cent in a move designed to check the use of credit on the rising stock market. This was the second such increase in less than four months. On Jan. 5 the board increased margin requirements to 60 from 50 per cent.

(The United Press pointed out that average stock prices have been rising, with interruptions, for many months, but the monthly increase since the boost in the margin requirement on Jan. 4 has been only two-thirds as big as in the previous six months.)

The new increase was announced after stock exchanges had ended trading for the week-end.

Wall Street Forecast.

First reaction on Wall Street was a forecast that the market probably would decline when it reopens Monday, then recover a few days later. One observer said the increase is "not large enough to change the course of the market."

Many stock brokers had been expecting the increase with the rise in credit buying. Some said they had expected the new requirement to be 75 per cent.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, pledged in a statement that the "new credit restriction will, of course, be observed meticulously" by the members of the exchange. He added: "We realize, of course, that the Federal Reserve Board is just as concerned as the stock exchange is with maintaining share ownership of American business on a sound credit structure."

Reserve Board figures show that credit in stock purchasing recently hit new highs .

$2,652,000,000 Margin Credit.

At the end of March, customers owed stock brokers and dealers a total of $2,652,000,000 on margin accounts. This was the highest level in the 24 years such records have been kept. On April 20 Federal Reserve member bank loans to brokers and dealers in New York and Chicago stood at $1,957,000,000 —the biggest total since 1938 when these records began.

The number of investors with debt outstanding on their purchases of stock through the New York Exchange increased 9 per cent during the first three months of this year. They now number 200,000-plus.

Several witnesses at a recent Senate Banking Committee "friendly study" of the stock market urged that margin requirements be increased to prevent the market boom from busting.

But Chairman William McC. Martin Jr. of the reserve board testified March 15 that margin requirements "are not and cannot be cure-alls for stock market excesses or abuses." Martin stressed that the board's responsibility is to block excessive use of stock credit, not to regulate stock market prices themselves. He said increasing margin requirements even to 100 per cent would not necessarily check rising stock prices.

At the close of the inquiry last month, Chairman J. William Fulbright (Dem.), Arkansas, said he found no signs of serious market abuses.

SOVIET SUBMARINE FLEET ESTIMATED AT 375 VESSELS

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)— Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas says the Soviet Union now has a submarine fleet estimated at 374 vessels—seven times the number of German U-Boats ready at the start of World War II.

Thomas, speaking at a dinner last night at the New York Yacht Club, said such a Soviet fleet, in event of war, would mean greater difficulty for our Navy to maintain control of the seas, adding: "You know the damage that the Germans did (against Allied shipping) on the east coast at the start of the last war."

Push-button warfare, Thomas said, remains "a long time off."

He said our Navy would depend mainly on atomic-powered submarines; faster, more heavily armored aircraft carriers; carrier based planes with ranges up to 1500 miles and faster destroyers.

Wife, Admirer Held in Killing Of Husband With Auto Bomb

MRS. OLIVER K. SMITH

Man Said to Admit Wiring Dynamite Into Victim's Car in $20,000 Insurance Plot.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 23 (UP)—A Portland woman and her former admirer today faced trial on charges of killing her husband with a bomb at a country club in a plot to collect $20,000 insurance.

Mrs. Marjorie Smith, about 35 years old, denied she was involved in the bomb plot, but police said Victor Lawrence Wolf, 45, told them both planned the killing to get the money.

District Attorney William B. Langley signed complaints against Mrs. Smith and Wolf. Police said Wolf had been keeping company with her. He said he met her last October while she was divorced from her husband, whom she later remarried.

Accused of Murder.

They were charged with the murder of Oliver Kermit Smith, 35, who was killed Thursday night when he stepped on the starter of his car after leaving a stag party at the country club.

The blast demolished the automobile and blew Smith into the grill of another car about 20 feet away. Parts of the auto were blown more than 150 yards.

(The Associated Press related Wolf had wired 10 sticks of dynamite into Smith's car Wednesday afternoon, the confession said. On Thursday night Smith drove to a stag party at the Columbia-Edgewater country club. While he was inside, Wolf wired the bomb to the starter, Langley quoted the confession as saying.)

Last March 10 Wolf tried to kill Smith in his garage by beating him with a bottle when Smith returned home late one night, Langley said. Smith recovered from this attack.

Feared For His Life.

Smith had expressed fears for his life after having been attacked in the garage and only last Saturday had asked for a permit to carry a pistol.

Mrs. Smith had divorced the attorney, a Purple Heart war veteran, on Aug. 6, 1954, after two years of marriage, charging cruel and inhuman treatment. They were remarried early this year, after she had met Wolf. The couple had two children and Mrs. Smith has a son by a previous marriage. Wolf is the father of a seven-year-old son who lived with him.

Police called the killing one of the "worst" in their records.

Wolf was picked up as a suspect because Smith had reported Wolf's license number to police after the March 10 ambush. Smith said then he did not want an arrest made. Wires found in Wolf's car were similar to wire used in the bombing of the Smith car, Langley said.

STUDENT STABBED TO DEATH IN YOUTH FIGHT AT CARNIVAL

TROY, N. Y., April 23 (AP)— A 17-year-old high school honor student was stabbed to death last night as five youths scuffled at a carnival.

The body of Daniel Carhart was found at the O. C. Buck shows on the state armory grounds. Police Chief Enoch Eaton said a five-inch hunting knife was discovered near the body.

Charles Schongar, 16, a schoolmate of Carhart's, was charged with second-degree murder. He suffered a slight cut on his left hand.

Schongar, whose mother is a traffic policewoman, denied stabbing Carhart and said he did not even know him at Catholic Central High School. Eaton said Shongar admitted carrying the knife.

The youth was quoted by police as saying that he and a friend scuffled with three other boys about a dispute he had had at school.

Schongar said one of the three pulled his glasses off and he was knocked to the ground. The next thing he remembered, Schongar said, was standing there with his hand bleeding and the knife on the ground.

JAPAN PROPOSES PEACE TALKS IN LONDON WITH REDS

TOKYO, April 23 (AP) — A government spokesman said Japan today formally proposed opening World War II peace talks with Russia in London early in June.

The source reported the proposal was dispatched to Japan's permanent observer at the United Nations, Renzo Sawada, for transmission to the Soviet representative there. Arkady A. Sobolev is Russia's chief U.N. delegate.

The spokesman indicated the information would be given to Sobolev Monday. The exact date for opening negotiations is to be discussed.

The Russians have rejected New York as a negotiating site. They indicated they will accept London or Geneva. The British Foreign Office said it would approve a London conference.

THREATENS TO SPRAY BANK WITH BULLETS IN HOLDUP

GRAND JUNCTION, Ia., April 23 (UP)—A robber escaped "with more than $4000" from the Peoples Trust & Savings Bank yesterday after threatening to spray the bank with bullets.

The man, who had a mustache and wore dark glasses, made his escape after telling bank president Claus Loos and four employes to get down on the floor or "your front windows will be sprayed with bullets."

Loos said the robbery took only about three minutes. He would say only that the loot was more than $4000. Other reports said it would exceed $9250.

counselor, often working at night and on holidays. Salary of the county counselor is $10,000 a year. The work he did for the Housing Authority, he said, was limited to off-duty hours, at night and on weekends when he had spare time.

In the same way, he added, he did other outside work while he was counselor. He said several other appointed county officials likewise do spare-time, private work, such as professional consulting or teaching.

The Jefferson Barracks housing project was operated at first by the city for the Federal Government, and McAtee was its attorney when the county took over in 1952. "I was asked to assist the authority since I knew quite a bit about the subject," he said, adding that he wrote some of the management policies and helped with legal work involved in the change.

The grand jury is scheduled to continue the investigation next Wednesday, with Lester S. McKean, chairman of the Housing Authority, as a witness.

APPETITE RETURNS TO SEA ELEPHANT, 120 HERRING EATEN

Moby Dick, the Zoo's new male sea elephant, which had just picked at his food since arriving here, yesterday bolted down a 60-pound fish dinner. Herring, 120 of them.

Zoo Director George P. Vierheller was not certain just what caused the change in Moby's mopy appetite. Perhaps it was the forced feeding earlier this week, or the new routine of vitamins and exercise, or maybe Moby was just hungry.

Whatever the season, Vierheller was elated. He had not been pleased when the 2500-pound, $3500 animal persistently turned up his huge nose at seafood dinners.

A better mood was evident today among all concerned, except the herring.

2 BIG PHILIPPINE VOLCANOES SHOW INCREASING ACTIVITY

MANILA, April 23 (AP)—Two big volcanoes—Mayon on Luzon island and Makaturing on Mindanao—today showed signs of increasing activity.

Volcanologist Arthuro Alcaraz said 7989-foot Mayon, the volcano with the "perfect cone" which erupted violently in 1947, "has been exuding more and more material through its crater. It is also smoking more than usual." Villagers living near the mountain had reported that the volcano slopes occasionally glowed at night, he said.

Philippine News Service dispatches from Mindanao reported that Makaturing had begun spouting smoke and fire, and that the 5025-foot volcano had "unleashed a deafening sound" Thursday night.

POLIO VACCINE QUOTA BOARD WILL BE NAMED

Mrs. Hobby to Choose Advisory Group of 7 or 9 to Suggest Allocations by States.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) —The Government moved by voluntary means today to assure that the Salk polio vaccine goes first to those who need it most.

Secretary of Education, Health and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby said she will name, perhaps today, a national advisory committee of seven or nine members—to suggest allocations by states.

Each state is expected to set up its own system of priorities for handling its share of the vaccine.

No Effect on Free Shots.

The plan, developed in a conference here yesterday and approved by President Eisenhower last night, will have no effect on the free immunization of first- and second-grade school children already under way under auspices of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

It applies only to the furnishing of supplies to doctors for administering to those not covered by the free program.

(The United Press said the Government's aim is to get all children under 10 immunized by Aug. 1 and all persons under 20 by Nov, 1.)

In a formal statement after the conference, Mrs. Hobby said statistics showed that an estimated 25,600,000 children can be vaccinated by July 1, but that almost no commercial supplies are available now. The free school program is getting the first quantities.

"These are the simple inescapable facts about the supply situation," she said.

'Hopeful Picture.'

"It is a situation which will require very great patience on the part of everyone. On the other hand, it is, in my opinion, a hopeful picture. . . . Instead of years there now remain only months before the great boon of the Salk vaccine can be made available to many millions."

She said the conference of doctors, public health workers, drug manufacturers and others which developed the allocation plan "accomplished all that we hoped for. . . . There was not one dissenting note in the day's activities."

The recommendations were:

1. Establishment of a national advisory committee to recommend voluntary allocations on a state-by-state basis, aimed at assuring availability to children 1 through 19 years of age at the time it is most needed.

2. Creation of state committees composed of health, medical and drug industry representatives to handle immunization plans within each state and establish such age group priorities as may be deemed necessary. In the absence of specific state plans priorities should be considered for children 1 to 10 years of age.

3. A continual check by technical experts on the use of the vaccine, to consider whether any changes should be made in the dosage schedule, and to study most effective ways of utilizing the vaccine.

The recommendations also proposed that distribution be handled through the usual channels of trade—from manufacturer to wholesale druggist to retail druggist.

Basis of Allocations.

Allocations and priorities for the vaccine would be based in part on records showing which geographical areas normally have the earliest upturn in cases, in part on which age groups have the most cases and the most deaths, and in part on child population.

The program would be based on use of two shots of vaccine for each child as fast as supplies become available. A third "booster" shot would be given not less than seven months after the second shot and not later than the start of the next polio season.

Dr. Hart Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation, said after the meeting that no one would need the "booster" shot until next February or March.

Basil O'Connor, head of the foundation, said in an interview that his organization would consider supplying a third shot free to the first- and second-graders now being immunized if the public wants it to and will provide the necessary funds.

By the United Press.

The Public Health Service reported that the peak polio danger ages are five through nine in the north and under five in the south.

The State Department said it expects in the next few days to begin sending to about 75 nations the formula of the Salk polio vaccine and the University of Michigan evaluation report.

Russia and other Communist nations will be among those receiving the information.

The move is being taken on instructions from President Eisenhower as a gesture of good will. Officials said transmission of the polio vaccine information is primarily "symbolic" because the Salk formula has been known to medical authorities abroad for some months.

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)— Prof. Chi-Teh Wang, a researcher and professor of aeronautical engineering at New York University, died yesterday of Hodgkin's disease. He was 35 years old. He was nationally known for his research and technical papers on problems connected with flight. He was born in China.

AVERY'S MARGIN AS WARD VOTE VICTOR IN DOUBT

Election Inspectors Begin Ballot Count—Results Will Be Given in 3 Weeks.

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)— How bad a beating Sewell Avery gave Louis Wolfson in the battle for control of Montgomery Ward & Co. was the only question remaining today.

Election inspectors began counting the votes cast at yesterday's annual stockholders meeting. The final decision will not be known for about three weeks.

Sewell Avery won, and Louis Wolfson lost. The only point at which they disputed one another was as to how many friends Wolfson would have with him at Ward's director meetings over the next year.

Wolfson said he took at least three seats, leaving six on the nine-man board for Avery. The Avery forces contended Wolfson took two, leaving seven for Avery. Wolfson said he might "possibly" have taken four.

Neither Side Sure.

Actually, neither side could be sure. It would all depend on how many of the votes cast would be valid. Each side undoubtedly had proxies which were automatically revoked when the same signers sent proxies with a later date to the other side.

Ward's meeting was adjourned until May 13. On that date the election inspectors will report on the total number of valid votes cast, and how they were distributed between the two slates.

Then, anyone who voted may change the distribution of his votes among the nominees of one slate. He will be given 24 hours to do it. But he can't shift from one slate to the other —from the Avery to the Wolfson nominees, for example.

This ruling will enable the two proxy committees, one representing Avery and the other Wolfson, to cumulate their votes for the directors they want.

Under Ward's sumulative voting system, the percentage of votes necessary to elect one director is 10 per cent of the total votes cast plus one vote. For Walfson to get the three places on the board he claims, he will have to have 30 per cent of the total cast plus three votes.

5 LANDING CRAFT OFF AMOY HIT BY CHIANG'S PLANES

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 23 (AP) — Air force headquarters reported Chinese Nationalist planes strafed and damaged five Communist landing craft and a small gunboat off Amoy today.

The air force said the landing craft were of about 50 tons each. There was no estimate of tonnage of the gunboat.

The communique said the planes encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire but all returned. Pilots reported smoke issued from the six craft which were attacked east of Amoy port.

The Defense Ministry reported the Reds at Amoy fired four shells at Tatan islet, two miles to the south. The ministry said there was no damage or casualties.

TWO ANNOUNCE CANDIDACY FOR PRESIDENT OF D.A.R.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) —Mrs. J. de Forest Richards, Chicago, and Mrs. Charles Carroll Haig, Washington, announced their candidacy last night for president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Election will be during next year's D.A.R. convention in April and the winner plus her cabinet of 11 members and seven active vice presidents general will serve three years.

Mrs. Frederick Alquin Groves of Cape Girardeau, Mo., former vice president general, is running for first vice president general on Mrs. Richards's ticket.

Presidential Citation for Salk Stirs Interest at White House

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP) —Kings and conquering generals have received less attention than the White House gave yesterday to Dr. Jonas E. Salk and his family.

Stenographers peered through doorways. Presidential aids came out of their offices for a look. Chief Aid Sherman Adams, sometimes said to be harder to reach than President Eisenhower himself, came into the lobby, crouched down and had a chat with the three Salk youngsters.

Then came the ceremony honoring the developer of the vaccine against the dreaded polio.

In the rose garden outside the President's office, the 40-year-old Salk stood between President Eisenhower and Secretary of Education, Health and Welfare Oveta Culp Hobby.

Mr. Eisenhower had a handsomely got-up citation for Salk . . . "historic contribution to human welfare . . . a benefactor of mankind."

There was another for Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—and a tribute by the Republican President to his New Deal predecessor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, for starting the foundation and for "personal courage in overcoming the handicap of poliomyelitis."

Standing behind the group at the microphones were Mrs. Salk, in a springlike, mauve outfit, and the boys in slacks and sports jackets, Peter 11, Darrell, 8, and Jonathan, 5.

Before the presentation Mr. Eisenhower, a man who lost a son in childhood and who now has three grandchildren, took off his glasses and spoke a few words not written on any paper.

"Dr. Salk," he said, in a voice that cracked a little with emotion, "before I hand you this citation, I should like to say to you that when I think of the thousands of American parents —and grandparents—who are hereafter to be spared the agonizing fears of the annual epidemic of poliomyelitis—"

The President paused and started over again.

"When I think of all the agony that these people will be spared, seeing their loved ones suffering in bed, I must say to you I have no words in which adequately to express the thanks of myself and all the people I know—all 164,000,000 Americans, to say nothing of all the people in the world that will profit from your discovery."

Later, in his office, Mr. Eisenhower gave a fountain pen and a pocket knife to each of the Salk boys.

To 5-year-old Jonathan he said: "Now, you mustn't open this knife until you are 6."

Jonathan was scarcely outside when he had the knife open. His brothers were as prompt in testing the sharpness of their blades.

"I only hope," said Mrs. Salk, who still looked cool and serene, "we all get home with all our eyes intact."

Two Senate Aids Reported Sent Abroad to Study Refugee Delays

McClellan Won't Specify Angles of Investigation by Staff Members—Corsi Hearings Recessed.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (UP) —The Senate investigating subcommittee has sent two staff members to Europe to study delays in handling refugees who seek admission to the United States after fleeing from behind the Iron Curtain, informed sources said today.

Senator McClellan (Dem.), Arkansas, confirmed that two investigators had been ordered to Europe for "a general look-see" at the operation of the United States refugee program, but declined to specify the angles on which they will concentrate.

Other sources said, however, the staffers will check complaints that Iron Curtain refugees often are kept in camps as long as two years while United States officials and their host countries check them for security and go through the other complicated requirements of the 1953 refugee law.

Director of Study.

A spokesman stressed that the inquiry will be a preliminary investigation to determine the need of holding public hearings on the refugee problem. The study will be directed by associate subcommittee counsel Donald F. O'Donnell.

McClellan's investigators left in the wake of an explosive series of hearings by the Senate Refugee subcommittee of the controversial ouster of Immigration Expert Edward J. Corsi as State Department special assistant on refugees.

Subcommittee Chairman Langer (Rep.), North Dakota, recessed the hearings indefinitely yesterday after the White House refused to allow Presidential Assistant Maxwell M. Rabb to testify on Corsi's ouster.

Corsi charged during the hearings that State Department Security Chief Scott McLeod, administrator of the refugee program, headed a "security gang" determined to block the program he called administration of the program a "national scandal."

M'Leod Testifies Again.

McLeod testified before still another subcommittee, an arm of the Appropriations Committee, that the refugee program is working.

He said he planned to issue 32,000 visas this year and 130,000 next year, but conceded that so far, most have gone not to true refugees, but to relatives of American citizens, who are alloted half the quotas under the 1953 refugee law.

(The Associated Press quoted Langer as saying he favors inviting Secretary of State Dulles to testify about his dismissal of Corsi. However, other members of the Judiciary subcommittee said they saw no need to call Dulles.

(Langer said he did not regard the investigation as concluded, but he told reporters the decision rested with the subcommittee. He said he hoped to call a meeting sometime next week.)

He accompanied gangster Ralph O'Hara, Eppelsheimer and others to Kansas City in 1946 and took over at gun point the Harmony News Service, another outlet for the national racing wire service.

When Smith was questioned by St. Louis police in November 1947 he told them he was an auditor for the then newly organized Plaza Amusement Co., a firm organized by gangsters to distribute juke boxes and vending machines. Testimony at his trial showed he held 166 shares in the company that year.

SIX WEST REICH TRUCKS SEIZED BY REDS, CONFISCATED

BERLIN, April 23 (AP)—Six West German trucks loaded with scrap metal have been seized on the highway connecting Berlin with West Germany, it was reported today.

The West Berlin Truckers Association, said they were confiscated at the Marienborn checkpoint, just before leaving the Soviet zone to enter West Germany.

The six drivers were accused of making false declarations about the loads on their trucks.

The incidents occurred as reports swept West Berlin that the Communists are planning to restrict drastically West Berlin's contact with West Germany.

SPAIN TO GET $30,000,000 IN EXPORT-IMPORT LOANS

MADRID, April 23 (AP)—The Spanish government has been authorized to conclude two loans totaling $30,000,000 with the Export-Import Bank of Washington, it was announced last night.

The communique issued after a cabinet meeting under Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of state, did not give any further details.

PARIS, April 23 (UP)—The French Government has barred the Communist-sponsored May Day parade through Paris for fear of disorders. Seven Communists were killed in the 1953 parade in a clash with police.

DULLES DEMANDS CHIANG BE IN TALKS WITH CHOU

United States authorities expressed considerable interest about whether he was willing to have Nationalist China representatives in attendance at any Formosa negotiations.

Previous Offers Recalled.

They recalled that Chou has expressed willingness to negotiate a Formosa settlement on several occasions. But he has yet to say he would accept a Nationalist China participant. Officials said he probably would get little support from other Far East nations if he again tried to bypass Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist leader.

However, accepting a Chiang representative would in effect be conceding for the first time that another China regime exists, officials said. Chiang would be recognizing the existence of the Peiping regime for the first time if he sent a representative to such a parley.

American officials found especialy interesting Chou's expressed willingness to discuss all Far East points of friction. Presumably, that would include a Korea peace treaty, an Indochina settlement, and release of American airmen and civilians held by Peiping.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California termed the Red Chinese offer "unacceptable" because the United States cannot "bargain away the rights of the Chinese Nationalists in their absence."

He said the proposal for direct negotiations with the United States—at which the Nationalists presumably would not be present—could only "lead to a Munich, a Yalta or to a Geneva-type conference."

"We are not going to barter away the peoples, the territory or the fate of friendly nations without their being present," he said.

"The only thing that Chou wants belongs to the Republic of China. It is not ours to give. No longer are we going to use other peoples property and their freedom as chips in an international poker game as was done at Munich, Yalta and Geneva."

Chairman George (Dem.), Georgia, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said he wasn't prepared to comment fully on Chou's offer, but he said the United States should give it "consideration on its merits."

Senator Mansfield (Dem.), Montana, said Red China's leaders appeared to have done "a complete about-face" in proposing direct negotiations.

"The United States should move with extreme caution until the world knows whether Chou is sincere, or this is just another Communist propaganda move," he said.

Representative Judd (Rep.), Minnesota, expressed hope that "no one falls" for Chou's offer which, he said, might be nothing more than the "usual double talk."

JUST TALK, TAIPEI SAYS OF OFFER

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 23 (AP)—Official Chinese Nationalist quarters tonight described Red China's offer to negotiate the Formosa issue with the United States as "a peace offensive and a well-timed bit of propaganda."

Noting that Premier Chou En-lai's statement at Bandung came on the eve of the arrival of Adm. Arthur W. Radford and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, a spokesman said:

"When the Communists find it profitable they talk about peace. Past experience shows the United States cannot do business with the Reds."

The spokesman, Tao Hsi-sheng, one of Chiang Kai-shek's advisers, added:

"In any case, the United States is on record that it will take part in no discussion on Formosa without the participation of the Chinese Nationalists and the Communists know it.

"This is another Communist move intended to divide the free world."

BONN WILL GET FREEDOM MAY 5, THEN JOIN NATO

France and Britain to Be Last Nations to Deposit Paris Rearmament Treaties.

BONN, April 23 (AP)—West Germany is to get its long-awaited sovereignty on May 5 and will formally enter the Atlantic alliance four days later.

A Government spokesman announced this timetable late yesterday after French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay disclosed France will deposit the Paris rearmament treaties on May 5. The British Foreign Office later announced Britain would act the same day. That will be the last formality needed to end the 10-year occupation and allow West Germany to rearm.

The treaties, signed in Paris last Oct. 23, permit the raising of 500,000 West German soldiers, sailors and airmen for Western defense.

The United States and West Germany already have deposited in Bonn the two key treaties ending the occupation and allowing the Western Allied troops now in Germany to remain as defense forces.

It is expected that by May 5 all nations in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will have deposited in Washington their agreement to allow West Germany to join them as fifteenth member. The Netherlands is the only nation of the 15 which has not completed parliamentary ratification of the treaties and that is expected before the end of the month.

A subsidiary organization of NATO, the Western European Union will exercise controls over German rearmament through its arms agency and council. The treaty enlarging WEU, signed by Britain, West Germany, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and Italy has to be deposited in Brussels. West Germany and Italy are the new members.

Andrews Twins 'Satisfactory.'

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)— The Andrews twin girls, separated successfully in an operation Thursday, were reported in satisfactory condition today. Attendants at Mercy Hospital, where the 4-hour, 40-minute operation was performed, said the girls, who were joined at the head when born last Oct. 1, spent a restful night.

INTENSIVE DRIVE TO CURB ILLEGAL WEAPON SALES URGED BY DOWD

Letter to Police Chief Following Street Shooting Says Rise in Crimes Calls for Special Effort.

An intensive police drive against persons who engage in illegal sale of deadly weapons was requested yesterday by Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dowd following arrest of a man who admitted a series of shootings, one of which resulted in death of a woman.

At the same time, Dowd said he would seek speedy prosecution and the death penalty for Guy Nolan, Negro, charged with first-degree murder and assault with intent to kill as a result of the shootings. Nolan said he bought the revolver he used from a taxicab driver.

Cites Steady Rise in Crimes.

"The steady increase in crimes involving the use of deadly weapons in all major cities, including St. Louis, indicates that some special effort must be made to apprehend and prosecute those responsible for the illegal transfer and sale of such weapons," Dowd said in a letter to Chief Jeremiah O'Connell.

"While I realize the department has been making a determined effort to apprehend persons illegally carrying concealed weapons, I am requesting an intensive drive on illegal sale of such weapons.

"The law requires that each person who borrows, lends, buys, sells, gives away or in any way exchanges a deadly weapon must first obtain a permit through the Circuit Clerk's office. I have noticed individuals and companies advertising the sale and barter of such weapons without reference to permits.

Urges Check of Publications.

"I believe the police department should carefully check all gun dealers' publications, as well as the newspapers, and investigate each of these invitations to deal in guns, with a view to determine whether there is compliance with law.

"In addition, I am requesting in all instances where a gun is recovered following a search, that it be traced back through its various sales and transfers as far as that is possible, and that persons involved in the transfer of such weapons, without the necessary permits, be arrested for that violation and that it be presented to the Circuit Attorney's office for prosecution.

"It is unfortunate that the recommendation of the Circuit Attorney's office for increasing the penalty for the illegal carrying of concealed weapons was not made law.

"However, I believe that by the next session of the Legislature the public will be sufficiently aroused by the many homicides and other serious crimes that its passage will be assured."

Taxicab Driver Arrested.

Orell White, Negro taxicab driver from whom Nolan said he obtained his revolver for $65, was arrested yesterday at Dowd's request and booked as a material witness.

Nolan admitted another shooting yesterday. He said he was the man who fired at Mrs. Lucille Jackson, a waitress, in the 500 block of Elm street Jan. 6, wounding her in the left thigh. Mrs. Jackson, who lives at 210 South Sixth street, said the man shot at her when she was unable to give him directions he sought.

Arrest of Nolan followed the killing of Mrs. June Alma Lytz who was shot to death on Lindell boulevard near the bath and massage parlor she operated at 308A North Theresa avenue.

Heat's On in Dallas.

P.S. CO. PAY FIGHT IN SECOND PHASE, CONFEREES FAIL

Steps Taken for Hearing by Panel Which Will Recommend Settlement Basis.

The State Mediation Board yesterday abandoned efforts to reach a settlement of a wage dispute between the St. Louis Public Service Co. and its 2600 union operating employes through conferences.

Daniel C. Rogers, mediation board chairman, said steps had been taken to put into effect the second phase of procedure under the King-Thompson Act to attempt a settlement. This will be appointment of a public hearing panel which will hear both sides and recommend a basis for ending the dispute.

The company and the union, Division 788, AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators, were each given five days in which to appoint a member of the panel. Those two panelists will then have another five days in which to name a third member.

"We worked hard, conscientiously and diligently trying to reach a settlement," Rogers said, "but were unable to do so. We exhaustively considered all angles of the dispute and the board submitted three definite approaches for settlement."

The transit company showed considerable interest in the lowest proposal, which was slightly higher than a company offer of a 6-cent hourly wage increase, Rogers said. The union exhibited interest only in the highest offer, he added, but the company turned this down.

The conferences, held at Hotel Jefferson, began Wednesday and continued until shortly before 2 p.m. yesterday. They were called after direct negotiations broke down last week. The union flatly turned down the company's offer and is demanding, in general, a 17-cent hourly increase.

Rogers said he urged representatives of the union and company to "explore all the hard work" that has already been put into negotiations and see if a fresh approach to the solution of their differences can be worked out.

Recommendations made by the public hearing panel are not binding on the principals in the dispute.

$20,000 GIVEN FOR RESEARCH ON MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

A check for $20,000 was presented to Dr. Edwin F. Gildea, head of the department of neuropsychiatry at Washington University, yesterday by the St. Louis chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The money is for continued research.

Presentation was made by Willis Krueger, treasurer of the chapter, in Dr. Gildea's office at McMillan Hospital. The first grant of $25,000 for research was made to Dr. Gildea by the St. Louis chapter two years ago.

Mrs. Walter Boerner, 860 Reavis-Barracks road, this week was elected president of the local chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, succeeding Krueger. Other officers are: Irvin H. Raisher, vice president, and Mrs. John Hughes, secretary.

MRS. EDITH V. CAULFIELD DIES, FUNERAL MONDAY

Mrs. Edith V. Caulfield, widow of former State Senator William E. Caulfield of St. Louis, died yesterday of a heart attack at Jerseyville Hospital, Jerseyville, Ill. She was 82 years old.

Mrs. Caulfield made her home in Jerseyville with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Woodrow. Her husband, who served in the Senate from 1925-27 after several terms as State Representative, died in 1946.

Besides her daughter she is survived by a son, William E. Caulfield Jr., 2311 North Kingshighway. The funeral will be at Jacoby Brothers undertaking establishment, Jerseyville, at 10 a.m. Monday. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery here.

Water Conservation, Betatron Exhibits Named Best at Fair

2 Young Scientists Who Built Devices Will Represent Area at National Competition in Cleveland.

Robert Shantz, Roosevelt High School senior, and Charles Scherrer, senior at East St. Louis High School, last night won top honors at the 1955 Greater St. Louis Science Fair.

They were selected at ceremonies closing the four-day fair, held in the Washington University Field House.

Shantz and Scherrer will display their exhibits at the National Science Fair in Cleveland, May 12 to 14, as representatives of the St. Louis area. They will be accompanied by Norman R. D. Jones, general chairman of the local fair. Expenses of all three will be paid by the Post-Dispatch.

19 Win Scholarships.

College scholarships valued at $23,500 were presented last night to 19 other high school seniors for outstanding exhibits. Cash prizes totaling $3425 were awarded to 434 elementary and high school students. There were 1700 entries.

Shantz, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Shantz, 3610 Bates street, was honored for the 2,000,000-volt betatron he constructed. Scherrer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Scherrer, 730 Veronica avenue, East St. Louis, entered a conservation exhibit on the use of watersheds.

Shantz spent about 1000 hours building his high-penetration X-ray device in the last year after doing research on it in previous years. Although he spent only $800 in its construction—many materials were donated by business firms — he values the machine at $10,000.

At last night's ceremonies, Shantz gave his betatron to St. Louis University. Alfred H. Weber, chairman of the university's physics department, who accepted the machine, said it would be used for instructional purposes in the university's graduate program in nuclear physics and for research.

Shantz said he hoped to win a scholarship to Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he would study nuclear physics.

Awarded $50 Prizes.

Scherrer, who won a $50 prize for his entry as did Shantz, became interested in conservation problems through one of his high school teachers. His exhibit, entitled "War on the Watersheds—The Problem Source Water vs. Big Dam Foolishness," is modeled after three pilot projects now being carried on in Illinois by federal and local agencies.

His model shows the function of vegetation, terracing, contour ploughing and retention dams in controlling water run-off and slowing the flow of streams. Various areas in the model terrain are numbered by flags, the keys to an explanatory brochure detailing the various steps in conservation practice.

Scherrer plans to enter Shurtleff College in Alton next fall and major in liberal arts.

The two students received their awards from George E. Carvell, Post-Dispatch circulation manager. The Post-Dispatch sponsored the fair, in co-operation with Washington University. It was the eighth annual fair. The fairs, open to elementary and high school students, are part of a nation-wide effort to encourage interest in science.

30 BECOME ILL AT SCOTTISH RITE CATHEDRAL LUNCH

About 30 persons became ill yesterday, apparently from food poisoning, following a luncheon at Scottish Rite Cathedral, 3637 Lindell boulevard.

The illnesses were traced to salad dressing, the Post-Dispatch was told. About 900 persons ate the meal.

Persons who became ill, including at least two waitresses, were treated in the cathedral's first aid room by physician members of the Scottish Rite organization. After treatment and rest, they were sent to their homes.

None of the victims required hospital treatment, the Post-Dispatch was told. The luncheon was in connection with a four-day reunion during which Scottish Rite degrees were conferred on 250 men. About 1200 persons, from various parts of the state, attended the reunion, which ended yesterday.

MISSOURI'S WATER RIGHTS LAW CALLED INADEQUATE

Missouri needs adequate water rights legislation to insure fair water supplies in the future for urban and rural users alike, Dean J. H. Longwell of the College of Agriculture, University of Missouri, said last night.

He spoke at the second annual Watershed Clinic, sponsored by the Friends of the Land, a national, private water and land conservation group, at the Sheraton Hotel.

Discussion of national water supply problems showed that farm land irrigation is moving eastward, but that states in the eastern half of the nation, Missouri included, have not prepared for the move by enacting proper water right laws. Without such laws some farmers might be forced out of farming entirely, delegates said.

RECORDS CENTER COMPLETION EXPECTED NEXT OCTOBER

Completion of the $12,500,000 Military Personnel Records Center, under construction on a 40-acre tract at 9700 Page boulevard, Overland, is expected next October, the Defense Department announced today in Washington.

Construction was begun Oct. 9, 1953. The building will house documents now in records centers at Washington and Garden City, Long Island, N.Y.

EISENHOWER TALK MONDAY TO BE ON WORLD TRADE

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—World trade will be the main topic of President Eisenhower's address Monday at the Associated Press luncheon here, the White House said yesterday.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters in Washington "the President, among other topics, will discuss the subject of world trade. He believes that trade is the bridge between a prosperous America and a free world at peace." Hagerty added that world trade would be the principal topic.

The President's speech will be carried live on the CBS and NBC television networks at 1 p.m., St. Louis time. It will be carried live on the NBC, Mutual and ABC radio networks at the same time. (Post-Dispatch stations KSD-TV and KSD will carry the speech.)

CBS will broadcast a tape recording of the speech at 3:30 p.m., St. Louis time.

MAN BITTEN BY DOG SOUGHT, ANIMAL APPARENTLY RABID

City health officials today were looking for a man who was reported to have been bitten yesterday by a dog that appears to be rabid. The man should report to the Pasteur Clinic in Municipal Courts Building for treatment.

Residents and passers-by in the area of Twelfth and Delmar boulevards told dog catchers that a man was bitten by the medium-sized, black and tan male dog they caught on Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks.

The dog, held at the City Dog Pound for further observation, was frothing at the mouth when caught.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN AUTO

The body of Henry Reiter, a radio operator for the state highway patrol, was found early today in his parked automobile in the 600 block of East Taylor avenue. A hose, leading into the car, was attached to the exhaust pipe and the motor was running. A note requested that a relative be notified.

Reiter, who was 48 years old, lived at 2307 North Kingshighway. His wife had reported to police last Monday that he was missing. He was stationed at the highway patrol headquarters on U.S. Highway 40 near Ballas road, St. Louis county.

4 AFL UNIONS GET WAGE BOOST FROM BUILDERS

Agreement Reached on Contracts Calling for 20-to-22½-Cent Hourly Increases.

The Associated General Contractors of St. Louis have reached agreements with four AFL construction craft unions calling for two-year contracts to provide wage increases ranging from 20 to 22½ cents an hour, it was announced yesterday.

Negotiators for the Carpenters District Council of St. Louis accepted the proposals unconditionally, but they will be voted on by rank and file members of the iron workers, construction laborers and operating engineers' unions. The unions have about 13,500 members.

Henry S. Till Jr., manager of the contractors office here, said the agreements provide for 10-cent hourly increases for the carpenters, laborers and operating engineers May 1 and additional 10-cent rises Jan. 1. The iron workers would receive a 12½ cent an hour increase May 1 and a 10-cent increase Jan. 1. Contracts would run to May 1, 1957.

Till said the contractors' negotiating committee would meet early next week with representatives of the iron workers and laborers to discuss some working conditions demanded by the unions. The union agents assured the contractors this would be no problem, he added.

Health, Welfare Benefits.

Carpenters now are paid $3.05 an hour, iron workers $3.02½ an hour and laborers $2.10. Members of these crafts get 7½ cents an hour health and welfare benefits which are paid directly into health and welfare funds by employers.

Operating engineers receive $3.12½ cents an hour, including 7½-cent health and welfare payments.

The Associated General Contractors are continuing negotiations with Local 682, AFL Teamsters' Union. A spokesman for the contractors said some progress has been made toward reaching a settlement.

Members of Local 396, AFL Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, will meet Wednesday night to vote on the proposals as will members of laborers' locals here. A special meeting also will be called next week for members of Local 513, Operating Engineers.

Negotiating Group.

The contractors' committee in the negotiations was headed by Joseph E. Latta, president and G. J. Alberici and Fred J. Luth, vice presidents. Union negotiators were D. Richard Adams and E. C. Meinert, representing the Carpenters District Council; Joseph Hunt and William O'Brien, Local 396, Bridge and Structural Iron Workers; Cecil Sims, Eastern Missouri Laborers District Council; Jerry Foster, Local 53, Construction Laborers; Anthony Pelker, Local 42, Construction Laborers; William A. O'Connell and Peter Weibert, Local 513, Operating Engineers.

The Associated General Contractors previously announced signing of two-year contracts with the laborers, teamsters and operating engineers employed in 109 outstate Missouri counties.

TAVERN OWNER IS HELD UP

Joseph Salmo, owner of a tavern at 1580 South Vendeventer avenue, was robbed of $100 early today by two armed men as he was checking the day's receipts.

One of the robbers, Salmo reported, pointed a revolver at him and demanded "give me your money." The two then ran out of the tavern.

THREE FROM AREA ARE KILLED IN TRAFFIC CRASHES

Two Die in Accidents in City, County — Other in Head-On Collision Near Waterloo.

Three St. Louis area residents were killed in separate traffic accidents late yesterday and early today.

They were:

Harry J. Currier, 19 years old, 5720 Leona street.

Leo Sylvester Block, 23, Lindbergh boulevard and Von Tolge road, Affton.

Arthur C. Rodenberg, a salesman, 10612 St. Michael lane, St. Ann.

Currier, employed by a printing firm, was killed early today when an automobile he was driving collided with another machine at Compton avenue and Dakota street. His car struck a light standard following the collision.

Says Automobile Failed to Stop.

The other driver, Lester Ray Collins, 3517 Magnolia avenue, told police Currier, westbound on Dakota, failed to make a stop before entering the intersection. Collins was released after treatment at City Hospital.

Currier, son of Mrs. Wilfred Bressler, 5015 Frankfort avenue, Affton, had been living temporarily with a friend, Dennis O'Dowd, on Leona street while his mother and stepfather were awaiting completion of a new home. Currier and O'Dowd were returning with three young women from a party when the collision occurred.

Block, discharged from the Army in December after service in Germany, was riding a motorcycle operated by Eugene Korhammer, who lives on Lindbergh in Affton.

The motorcycle struck the rear of an automobile driven by Kenneth G. Gapsch, a student, who was turning into a driveway of his home on Lindbergh near Tesson Ferry road. A witness corroborated Gapsch's statement that his directional signal lights were on. Korhammer suffered a fractured right leg and cuts.

Head-On Collision.

Rodenberg's automobile collided head-on with another machine on Illinois Highway 3 north of Waterloo, Ill., 20 miles southeast of St. Louis. Highway patrolmen said Rodenberg apparently was trying to pass another car when his machine struck a southbound automobile driven by John Greer of McClure, Ill.

Greer suffered serious head and leg injuries. He was taken to St. Clement's Hospital at Red Bud, Ill. Rodenberg, 44, was married and had two children. He worked for Hollander & Co.

3 Hurt in Truck-Train Crash.

Three men were injured today when a Missouri Pacific freight train struck a tractor-trailer truck on U.S. Highway 66 near Grant road, St. Louis county.

Those hurt were George Chatdelaine of Woonsocket, R.I., driver of the tractor-trailer; Donald Gadbois of Mendon, Mass., who was with him, and Hansing Craig, brakeman on the train.

The truck, which had been westbound, was dragged 175 feet by the northbound 10-car freight train, which was pulled by a diesel switch engine.

Witnesses said the warning lights at the crossing were flashing and that the horn of the diesel engine was sounded several times before the train proceeded across the highway. James V. Smith, engineer, estimated his speed at 20 miles an hour.

The injured ware taken to St. Louis County Hospital. The truck had come from Chicago with an interstate shipment. Traffic on Highway 66 was halted for 30 minutes following the collision.

Oliver L. Hambley, 4168 Burgen avenue, died at Alexian Brothers Hospital today of head injuries suffered Sunday when an automobile he was driving went out of control on U.S. Highway 61 south of Festus.

State highway patrolmen said Hambley apparently lost control while passing another automobile. He was 25 years old and was employed as a service man for a refrigeration and air-conditioning firm.

Joan Mathews, 14 years old, and Carl R. Kaulen, 18, were injured yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding plunged down a 20-foot bank into the Mississippi river after striking a parked automobile on McAdams Memorial Highway, west of Alton.

Witness Aids Girl.

Robert Embry of Clifton Terrace, near Alton, was driving by when he saw the two automobiles partly submerged in the river. He stopped and assisted the girl from the water. He said her companion was seated dazed on the bank.

Embry told police a man appeared on the scene but refused to help him get the girl from the river. She suffered severe cuts of the neck, and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Alton, where her companion is under treatment for a head injury. Police did not learn who was driving.

The girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Mathews, 3309 Franor street, Alton. Kaulen is the son of Mrs. Harriet Kaulen of Bethalto, Ill.

Mrs. Joseph C. Gieszelmann Sr., 82, Granite City, died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Granite City of injuries suffered in an automobile accident April 3 on Highway 66, seven miles northwest of Granite City. Her husband was killed in the crash.

POLIO SHOT GIVEN 3082 IN CITY SCHOOLS IN DAY

Others Inoculated in County — Parochial Vaccine Program Will Begin Monday.

The [illegible] polio inoculation program got under way in St. Louis public schools yesterday with "shots" being administered to 3082 first and second-grade pupils in 22 schools.

In St. Louis county 406 children received the free inoculations at Blackberry Lane and Nathaniel Hawthorne schools in University City. Other hundreds were inoculated at schools in the Valley Park, Pattonville and Parkway Consolidated districts in the county.

The St. Louis public school program will be resumed Monday for the rest of approximately 18,000 children in the two grades. Also, inoculations will begin for more than 7000 parochial school children in the city. Most of the inoculations in both city and county will be completed by next Friday. On the East Side the program is virtually complete.

Third Shot Later.

The shots, donated by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, are the first of two to be administered within a four-week period. A third, or booster, shot to be given from seven to 12 months later, will be by physicians at individual expense, under present plans.

Prior to the start of the program, parents of 22,063 out of a total of 29,666 eligible children in public, parochial and private schols in the city, gave permission for the inoculations. In the county there were permissions for about 22,200 of 26,400 eligible.

However, health officers throughout the St. Louis area have reported that since the announcement April 12 that the vaccine was safe and effective, a large number of parents have sent belated requests for the immunization. As a result, participation is expected to run well over 90 per cent and in some schools practically 100 per cent.

The polio foundation has promised it would provide the first two shots for every child requesting them. Funds are derived from the foundation's March of Dimes campaigns.

Inoculation of city public school children is by Board of Education staff physicians and nurses. The program in city parochial and private schools is conducted by the staff of the city health division. In the county inoculations generally are by physicians and nurses who are donating their services, although some school districts have full or part-time health staffs.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Thoughts on Transit

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

More and more evidence is accumulating that the solution to many of our transportation problems does not lie in providing more access to our crowded metropolitan areas for private automobiles. Means must be found for utilizing mass transportation facilities. Studies have been made recommending that expressways provide lanes for busses which would carry more persons per square foot of highway space.

It appears that the high cost of procuring right of way for multi-laned expressways is deterring their construction, and the addition of another two or more lanes for mass transportation would further deter their construction.

But I can envisage an expressway with a separate upper level for mass transportation supported above the other roadway by arches, entirely free from the congestion of private autos. There would be no need for complex clover-leafs or interchanges on this upper level, as all busses would be routed from one end to the other with pull-off space for loading and unloading passengers, who would be safe from other traffic, and could move to and from street level by escalators at certain strategic cross streets.

To go even further, why not a system of mono-rail cars suspended high above these expressways and in no way interfering with the operation of the highway? R.O.W.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I believe the Public Service Co. really took us for a ride this time. They didn't ask for an increase in fare but simply asked for a zone fare system which, of course, equals the same thing.

We were led to believe that unless we lived in the county, there would be no change in our regular fare.

St. Louis could solve its traffic problem to some extent during the rush hours by providing some good, convenient public transportation for a change. Isn't it time that the powers who be did something about this situation? G. HUDSON.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Public Service Co. advises that its new zone system will not cost the city short-haul riders any more than in the past.

I ride the Grand streetcar from Wyoming to Lindell (riding time 15 minutes), transfer to a Lindell bus and ride to Vandeventer (time 5 minutes).

Certainly, you wouldn't call this a long haul ride, but I must pay an additional fare at the transfer point. It seems to me that this is definitely a transfer charge, and entirely unfair to the short-haul city rider.

Also, why did the company change the dividing line between zones from Olive to West Pine when it reaches Grand? West Pine is not a transfer point. SHORT HAUL RIDER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Having occasion to use the Broadway line generally only on weekends, I became accustomed last year to post myself at the proper corner without loss of time or direction. Once, however, transferring on a weekday, I was told, after muddling, that it was cut only on Saturdays and Sundays.

On April 10 the line was cut in two sections, north and south, for good and for every day.

Now I read that the Public Service Co. has been prevailed to undo what it did and to make Broadway a through line again. I am waiting with bated breath to be told whether this is for five days a week or seven. LOUIS NEWBERGER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

What is wrong with the people of St. Louis? Lying down and without a murmur of discontent they are taking both a reduction in service and an increase in fare in their so-called public transportation.

The people of St. Louis enjoy a great tradition of protest. It was an angry mass movement that cleansed the air not so many years ago.

Now is the time for the people of St. Louis to stir again and jolt the public transportation company into an honest consideration of the public interest first. MORTON H. COWDEN.

As to a Truckway

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Why did the Citizens' Bond Issue Committee propose $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money in the bond issue to subsidize the trucking industry? The Hall Street Industrial Highway will be a concrete monument to the trucking lobby, commemorating its success in obtaining a million dollar plus gift.

As I understand it, the huge interstate trucking companies pay only a few dollars per truck to the city for an annual license, in addition to the usual taxes paid by other industries, including the railroads.

How long will it take for such license revenue to reimburse the city for this truckway and its upkeep? C. E. MENCKEL.

When the Weather Is Right

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Amy Vanderbilt's recent squawk about hatless men occasions me to place her in one of the following categories:

1. She owns a hat factory.
2. She runs the hat check concession at El Morocco.
3. The man in her life is sans hair thus requiring a hat for camouflage. M. BARNETT.

Time to Be Definite

With one exception, the tax reassessment program recommended by a special committee of the County Council appears to be a sound and well thought out plan for correcting inequities in the county's property tax structure.

The exception is that the committee, composed of Councilmen James H. J. McNary, James A. Singer and Frank L. Martini, does not lay down a clear and definite timetable for the completion of its proposed two-stage reassessment.

In a general way the committee expresses hope that reassessment of land might be completed by next spring and of improvements a year later. But when it comes to specifics, it merely recommends that first priority be given the land revaluation and second to improvements.

It seems to us essential that definite target dates be established, both as a pledge of prompt performance to the State Tax Commission and as a promise to county residents that they will promptly be relieved of what the committee indicates are gross inequities in real estate assessments as they stand.

Unless the county says "we will do thus and so by such a date, and thus and so by another date," there can be no assurance that the same official inertia that permitted the present inequities to develop will not permit them to be prolonged.

* * *

How shocking those inequities are may be judged by the committee's statement that some parcels of property are assessed at less than 10 per cent of true value, others at "well over 30 per cent." This means that some taxpayers are evading two thirds of their rightful tax burden.

Whoever and whatever is responsible for this situation—and the committee seems to us a little too anxious to make excuses for the officials who permitted it to arise—the important thing now is not recriminations for the past but action for the present. The inequities in assessments cry out for correction not in the vaguely indefinite future but by a specific and immediate date.

This is something that ought to be done regardless of when St. Louis county assessments are brought into line with those in other counties. The State Tax Commission so far has taken the line that it will insist upon a rise in assessment to 30 per cent of true value this year in St. Louis county and 25 other counties. In our opinion the Commission has been justified in taking that line. Certainly statewide equalization should not be unreasonably delayed.

* * *

We must admit, however, that the Council committee makes a persuasive argument that a general reassessment within the county and a state-imposed blanket increase of assessments cannot well be handled at the same time. It also argues persuasively that the blanket increase without the general reassessment would clog the wheels with tax appeals and perhaps block the flow of funds to schools and other vital services.

Both the State Tax Commission and the public are entitled to assurance that the general reassessment will be completed with dispatch and that its net effect will be to accomplish—not to evade—the statewide equalization goals. The county officials have been so slow to act up to now that they will need to move with more than ordinary decisiveness and promptness to provide any such assurance.

If the Council adopts and actually starts work on a comprehensive reassessment, it may then be in a position to ask the State again to withhold a blanket increase. It is in no position to do so on the basis of mere promises.

A Bomb in the Baggage

The Peiping radio has been busy charging the United States and Nationalist China with sabotaging an airliner that crashed in the China Sea on April 11, carrying eight Bandung-bound Chinese Communists to death. The three surviving Air India crewmen lent some support for a sabotage theory when they told of a muffled explosion in the baggage compartment, followed by flames that forced the ditching. But there has been no shred of evidence linking the United States—or even Nationalist China—with any attempt to sabotage the plane.

The Hong Kong Government has now reported to the British Prime Minister that its investigation shows that the plane was not tampered with while it was at the Hong Kong airport for an hour just before it took off on its fatal flight. The Hong Kong authorities do point out that the Communists' baggage was not checked before being loaded on the plane because of the diplomatic immunity of its owners.

Since the Peiping Government only last month ousted two of its inner circle, Kao Kang, boss of the five-year plan, (who then obligingly "committed suicide") and Jao Shu-shih, a Shanghai boss, it might not be amiss to ask whether one or all of the eight Chinese Communists on the airliner might have been in the persona non grata class. A time bomb in the luggage would have done the trick.

If that seems farfetched, it is no more farfetched than the idea that some agent of the United States was able to elude the strict guard on the diplomatic baggage and plant the bomb.

Passports: Right or Privilege?

In the Martin D. Kamen passport case, Assistant United States Attorney Joseph A. Rafferty is arguing, in effect, that the Government has the right to inflict punitive deprivations on a citizen without giving an acceptable explanation.

Dr. Kamen, distinguished nuclear scientist on the staff of Washington University, is demanding in the Washington, D.C., Federal District Court that the State Department give him the passport denied since 1947 on security grounds. The latter have not been explained to Dr. Kamen in any detail, nor has he been told the names or the charges of his accusers.

No such disclosures need be made, Rafferty argues, because the State Department has "absolute, unreviewable discretion" in the issuing of passports under the President's constitutional power to conduct foreign affairs. But it seems much more logical to argue that this is a domestic matter in which the citizen is protected by the "due process" clause of the same constitution.

Because of his standing as a biochemist, Dr. Kamen has been invited in recent years to lecture at universities in Britain, Israel and Australia among others. For lack of a passport he has been unable to accept. This not only is a harsh limitation on his freedom of movement, but affects his prestige and further development as a scientist.

Under British law—so akin to ours that British precedents may be cited in American courts—a citizen's right to a passport is as automatic as his right to vote. It can be denied only for demonstrated cause. Surely the courts will also make this the American rule.

Dr. Kamen recently gained libel awards against the Chicago Tribune and the old Washington Post. So the courts were not impressed by published talk about his loyalty. Maybe the Government is in possession of more convincing information, and maybe not. But surely no citizen is to be treated this way without a reasonable factual justification.

Another Red Flag Disregarded

In reaffirming its decision to retain Ebasco Services, Inc. as a Dixon-Yates contractor, the Atomic Energy Commission has overridden the clear warning of the General Accounting Office, based on the latter's detailed account of bad planning and inept estimating by Ebasco on the Joppa, Ill., power project.

It is hard to imagine a prudently run business concern hiring the same firm to do a certain job while $51,000,000 in excess costs on another job like it was still in dispute.

Ever since the debacle at Joppa, Ebasco has been trying to make it appear that labor troubles alone caused its fantastically excessive costs. GAO says a skimpy original estimate and bad management played their parts.

Since the Government will stand to share part of any excess in cost over estimate at West Memphis as well, it is very much in point to inquire whether this estimate is materially better than the one at Joppa. There, Ebasco apparently did not even know the site was in the earthquake zone until after it had made its estimate, and this oversight alone added nearly one and three quarters million dollars to the cost.

GAO's criticism of Ebasco is all the more remarkable because the new Comptroller General, who heads this government agency, is Joseph Campbell, who as an AEC commissioner voted at least twice to approve the Dixon-Yates contract. Still earlier, AEC Commissioner Thomas Murray, who initiated the plan for private construction of the Joppa plant, had confessed that it was a glaring failure.

Commissioner Murray said he had hoped the Joppa job would enable private business to regain some of the initiative in the atomic energy program. It was, he said, an opportunity for business to show what it could do. But the companies responsible failed to watch the project "with the eye of an eagle," and "one must admit," Commissioner Murray said, "that the operation was found wanting."

Under these conclusive circumstances, the proposal by GAO, "the watchdog of the Treasury," that Ebasco be kept off another project until the Joppa dispute is settled, was the least that ordinary business prudence would dictate.

In rejecting this advice, on the ground that too much time would be lost if another contractor had to be found, the AEC testifies once more to the marvelous and mysterious force which keeps Dixon-Yates battering ahead in spite of all opposition and all warnings.

Is This Decentralization?

When Senators Hennings and Symington called on Secretary of Agriculture Benson to investigate the federal farm and conservation program in Missouri, they were making the appeal almost unanimous.

Earlier this month the Missouri House voted to demand an inquiry, and accused the chairman of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Murray Colbert, of firing local committeemen elected by farmers right and left. Mr. Colbert replied that there had been some dismissals but no wholesale dismissals. And he, too, welcomed an investigation by any "qualified" agency.

Secretary Benson's department is the qualified agency in this case. It is responsible for the appointment of Murray Colbert. This dispute has been going on for a year, and there is a good deal of politics under it, but one question has priority over any other. That is whether, under present management, the ASC program is carrying out decentralization of the farm program and giving the farmers a larger voice in their affairs. Many farmers obviously do not think so. But that is what Secretary Benson promised to do.

The Bar and the Magistrates

Chief Magistrate Anton Sestric says the Bar Association's criticism that St. Louis's 10 magistrates spend too little time in court applies only to what went on last year, not this year. Last year, the Bar Group found, the magistrates averaged only about two hours a day on the job.

This year, according to Judge Sestric, the magistrates are paying closer attention to business, and at least two of them—Mr. Sestric and Magistrate Daniel B. Tammany—are on the job daily until 5 p.m. Good for them. But what about the others? Could it be that the city is overstaffed with magistrates?

Aside from that, what does Mr. Sestric have to say about the Bar Association's other criticisms? For example, does he condone the practice of constables and their deputies accepting "gifts" and "tips" from attorneys for performing their duties? How much time has Chief Clerk John F. Dougherty, the former sheriff, been devoting to his job?

Magistrates and constables are elected. Currently those offices are loaded with Democratic ward committeemen. Three of the magistrates are committeemen, two committeewomen work in the courts, and seven committeemen are constables. One magistrate is a Republican committeeman.

Clearly this is not the most healthy situation imaginable. Perhaps the Legislature should prohibit committee members from serving both the courts and the party. Let it be one or the other, not both. Meantime, the Bar Association will serve the public interest by making regular reports on what goes on in these courts.

A Penalty on Good Business

Efficient business practices in liquor retailing would be penalized by a bill, essentially price-fixing in nature, which the Missouri Senate has adopted. The bill would limit to 1 per cent the discount wholesalers may give retailers for purchases in quantity. In contrast, discounts now offered for quantity purchases range up to 6 per cent. One of the large liquor chains says the net effect of the bill would be to increase the price of whisky across the counter about 50 cents a bottle.

The discounts up to 6 per cent for quantity purchases are offered by wholesalers to all retailers. It is standard business practice to offer discounts for quantity purchases — and good business practice to take advantage of these savings.

Senator Edward V. Long of Clarksville, sponsor of the discount-limiting bill, declares that "under this measure prices could be revised only downward to meet competition." To the contrary, prices could be revised only upward because a major basis for competition had been removed.

The House, to which it has now been referred, should defeat this unwise and unbusinesslike bill.

"HE GETS OFF A NICE CLEAR DECISION, DOESN'T HE?"
—From The Washington Post.

Make Ft. Leonard Wood Permanent

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Large sums spent on Army post and its importance for training engineers would make it unsound to abandon installation, yet that threat exists as long as Fort has 'temporary' status, editorial says; Missouri should urge Pentagon to change classification.

From the Springfield (Mo.) News and Leader

The unestimable value of Fort Leonard Wood to the Government as a whole, and to Missouri and the Ozarks in particular, is taken for granted, but there's an alarming indication that it won't always be like this.

For Fort Leonard Wood, it has only recently been re-emphasized, is still designated as a temporary installation by the Department of the Army and could conceivably be ordered closed sometime early in 1956.

The War Department Installation Board recommended that "temporary" designation for Fort Leonard Wood in 1946, and in March of that year the installation was inactivated.

In August 1950, the installation was reactivated as a training center to support the expansion of the Army brought about by the Korean action, and in 1952 the findings of the 1946 board were reiterated. Fort Wood was only a temporary setup.

Last month another survey of temporary Army camps was made and Fort Wood was retained in the "temporary" classification, but given an additional year's lease on life.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens has informed Senator Thomas C. Hennings that another study will be made late this year or possibly early in 1956.

Transfer to a "permanent" designation for the Missouri installation ought to be sought by all influential groups in the state, not only from a standpoint of economics but because of the benefits that may one day be reaped for the nation as a whole.

Just as Fort Benning is a permanent setup for the infantry and Fort Sill a permanent installation for the artillery, then Fort Wood is deserving of such a status on behalf of the engineers.

Fort Leonard Wood, located in some of Missouri's most rugged hill country, offers ideal terrain for the training of engineers. A great deal of money has been spent on the camp, and it is now said to house the greatest concentration of earth moving equipment in the world.

It would seem unsound economically to abandon such facilities in the light of world conditions, and this threat will exist as long as the Department of the Army continues a policy of evaluating its so-called "temporary" installations on a year-to-year basis.

Congressman Dewey Short and Senators Hennings and Stuart Symington no doubt feel the urgency of having Fort Leonard Wood classified as a permanent installation, but their activities on behalf of this may only be prodded by the opinions of their constituents.

The Ad Boys Search the Subconscious

Eric Sevareid in a CBS News Broadcast

As self-appointed protector of the public weal, it is time I give warning that the advertising man is after your last, secret possession. He's felt your pulse till it's off-beat; he's extracted your thoughts about his product till you feel subversive, and now, so help me, he's after your innermost feelings, your subconscious mind, no less.

The whole process is the newest thing among the sales and packaging boys; it's called Motivational Research. And personally, as a fellow recently conditioned to buying nothing unless it contains both lanolin and GL 70, it just seems too much effort to find out why I squeeze a tube of toothpaste at the front end instead of the rear. The thing is, though, that the motivational research boys don't care if you know the answer as long as they know it. Then they know just where to aim their ads.

Know why they don't advertise beer as a healthy food, anymore? The researchers found people subconsciously thought of fat and waist-lines. That's why beers are now "always refreshing, never filling." Know why the ads on cigarette-holders don't emphasize the holder in the picture? Because the motivational boys fished around in the subconscious and discovered people are afraid they'd look conspicuous using a holder. The other day a motivational psychologist told kitchen range manufacturers they should call it a "stove" again, and not let it disappear under the counter anymore. Said today's woman is no longer the efficiency-minded careerist dame of the '30s, but is part homemaker again and subconsciously wants a big, busy, warm-hearted stove again as a center of family life to express her own personality.

They find out all this with what they call the "depth interview." Now I understand that fellow who asked me all those questions about what I thought of when I thought of the meat industry, I said, "Oh, steers, dust, Gary Cooper, Texas lobbyists with Stetsons and loud voices." The fellow nodded, looked wise, finally tiptoed out as if he was afraid he'd drop and bust all that sensitive, subtle information.

A great idea for boosting auto sales has just occurred to me. Rip off the name of the car. Nobody is forced to wear a sign on his suit. Bet the motivationists will find millions of men subconsciously resent exhibiting a trade-name on the way to work. Why not replace it with the name of the driver? Personality-expression, see?

As soon as I'm through talking to the Patent Office, I think I'll ring up Charlie Wilson.

Tax Those Horses?

From The Milwaukee Journal

From C. F. Kettering, 78-year-old sage, inventor, scientist and General Motors executive, comes the amused comment that much as horsepower of autos is increasing, it is increasing faster in the minds of those trying to "sell horsepower" than in the engines themselves. Take, for instance, a car that claims 250 h.p. engines this year. The claim isn't exactly misrepresentation, Kettering says—"you can get that 250 h.p. out of your engine, but you have to drive 135 miles an hour to do it."

The manufacturers are going to build what the public will buy—and they apparently will buy more colorful, longer, faster cars no matter how little sense this makes for safety or for parking.

A Journal reader suggests that a tax on horsepower (Britain has this) might bring a change in auto engineering. It might. How about a tax on length, too?

DEAD APHORISM.

From The Louisville Times.

Police Judge Peter B. Muir says in a letter sent to professional bondsmen:

"This notice is further to warn you against allowing any loafing, loitering or unnecessary or extraordinary congregation in or about your offices of any individuals who either are or by reputation are listed to be unsavory characters, hoodlums, vagrants and gamblers."

As we see it, this put a big dent in the theory the customer is always right.

Between Book Ends

A Philosopher's Message

POWER AND INFLUENCE, by Lord Beveridge. Beechhurst Press, 448 pgs., $5.)

The author of Britain's health insurance plan has written his autobiography with a message to the world in mind. With the world divided into a democratic and a dictatorial camp and their conflict unresolved, Beveridge urges that the democracies not only keep strong to stop the spread of despotism but also carry their message to every country as forcefully as possible: Freedom, justice and peace.

A long life in public activities and a full share of satisfactions as well as disappointments has led Lord Beveridge to his attitude. But although there is a note of despair throughout the book, like a leitmotif, the author believes that man is changeable. "All men," he says, "have in them what brutes have not—reason and speech and emotions other than fear and greed, and all men have capacity for religion."

Lord Beveridge

And this also explains the title he chose for his book. "Power as a means of getting things done appeals to that which men share with brutes," Beveridge explains, "to fear and to greed. Power leads those who wield it to desire it for its own sake, not for the service it may render, and to seek continuance in their own hands."

Influence, on the other hand, is to the author's mind a means of getting things done which distinguish them from animals. "The way out of the world's troubles today is to treat men as men, to enthrone influence over power, and to make power revocable."

The philosopher Beveridge looks at the world with a benign yet undeceivable eye. His personal experience with the political leaders of his country apparently was so unsatisfactory that he came to the conclusion that only a stricter watch by the people over the men elected to guide their destinies could save democracy.

Mr. Churchill in particular does not appear as a favorite of the author. Lord Beveridge's main peeve is that in announcing the Beveridge plan Churchill made it appear as if his government had conceived the program, while in reality Beveridge had fought for such a plan for decades.

Despite his desire to serve the public, it seems that Lord Beveridge has found the full measure of his contentment in his academic career and as the author of books. GERHARDT NEUMAN.

War as Agent of History

FROM LEXINGTON TO LIBERTY: THE STORY OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, by Bruce Lancaster. (Doubleday & Co., 470 pgs., $4.)

This is another volume in "The Main-Stream of America" series, being edited by Lewis Gannett. The aim of the series is to present American history in terms of people and in narrative form. The present volume cannot be considered to tell "the story of the American Revolution" in a way that most historians would consider adequate, because, like the volume by John Richard Alden in the new Harper's series, it is concerned almost exclusively with military affairs.

But if military operations are what the reader wants he will find here narrative of excellent quality. The author is an experienced novelist who has used American history effectively as the background of several books. He has also, to all appearances, done a thorough and painstaking piece of research. For those who have the time—not as many in these TV days as in the past—to wade through nearly 500 pages of unflagging narrative we see no reason for not recommending the book warmly. But 250,000 are a lot of words! A.M.D.

METHODIST WOMEN TO MEET 2 DAYS

W.S.C.S. Will Open Annual Session Thursday at St. John's.

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, St. Louis Conference, will hold its fourteenth annual meeting Thursday and Friday at St. John's Methodist Church, Kingshighway and Washington boulevard.

The group represents 243 local church societies in St. Louis and eastern Missouri with a total membership of 14,041 women. During the fiscal year just ended they gave more than $71,500 to Methodist missions.

The speaker at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Friday will be Mrs. David D. Baker of New York, editor of The Church Woman, magazine of United Church Women of the National Council of Churches. Mrs. Baker is a former president of the St. Louis Council of Church Women. Her husband was editor of The Messenger, weekly journal of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, from 1942 till his death in an automobile accident in 1950.

The meeting will open at 9 a.m. Thursday. Talks illustrated with pictures will be made by Mrs. Frank L. Wright and Mrs. Lawrence McDaniel who recently returned from Hawaii. Mrs. Cecil G. Kane of 7469 Stanford avenue, University City, president of the conference society, will preside.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will preside at holy communion at 1 p.m. Thursday. He will be assisted in the service by the six district superintendents of the St. Louis Conference. Bishop Holt returned today from a six-week tour of the Pacific during which he attended Methodist conferences in New Zealand and Australia. On his way home he attended the spring meeting of the Methodist Council of Bishops at Seattle, Wash.

A missionary education dinner meeting will be held at 6 p.m. Thursday. The speaker will be Miss Martha Vanderberg, who served as a missionary to India for 20 years and now is stationed in Peru.

Missionary to Formosa.

Miss Mary Geneva Sayre, missionary to Formosa and for many years a missionary to China, will speak at Lighthouse Free Methodist Church, Tower Grove and Norfolk avenues, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow. Miss Sayre was a prisoner of the Chinese Communists for two years. She is the author of several books on China.

SIX NEW CATHOLIC PARISHES FOUNDED

Archbishop Ritter Authorizes New Churches for County; 11 Priests Transferred.

Establishment of six new Catholic parishes in St. Louis county, and the transfer of 11 priests were announced yesterday by Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter. Locations of the new parishes were not announced.

Four priests assigned to found new churches were: The Rev. Joseph M. Anler, the Rev. Walter M. Boul, the Rev. William J. Harlon, and the Rev. John J. Manion. Two other parishes will be founded by the Jesuits and by the Redemptorist Fathers.

The new parishes will bring the total in the county to 68, compared to 83 in the city.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lloyd A. Sullivan, former pastor of the Old Cathedral, Third and Walnut streets, was appointed pastor of Epiphany of Our Lord Church. The Rev. James E. Hoflich, former administrator of St. Raymond Church, was named administrator of the Old Cathedral.

The Rev. Joseph E. Michalski, J.C.L., was named administrator of St. Raymond parish.

The Rev. William F. Glynn has resigned as pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Clayton, because of ill health. He is succeeded by the Rev. Thomas J. Odlum, former pastor of St. Clement Church, St. Clement, Mo.

The Rev. John H. Dreisoerner is the new pastor of St. Clement parish.

The Rev. Patrick J. Dooley, former pastor of St. Rose of Lima Church, De Soto, Mo., was appointed pastor of Most Sacred Heart of Jesus Church, St. Louis. The Rev. Francis R. Hyland becomes pastor of the De Soto parish.

The Rev. George J. Gottwald was named pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, Desloge, Mo. The Rev. James A. Flynn was made pastor of Holy Family Church, Port Hudson, Mo., the Rev. Raymond W. Rau was appointed pastor of St. Anthony parish, Rosati, Mo., and the Rev. Sylvester W. Bauer was named pastor of St. Mary Church, West Plains, Mo.

United Lutherans Gain.

United Lutheran Church in America had 2,202,791 baptized members at the end of 1954, an increase of 62,704 over the previous year, it is reported by the National Lutheran Council. There are eight churches of this denomination in St. Louis.

Church Women Study Families As Neighbors and Citizens

Project Lays Emphasis on Attitudes of Parents and How They Influence Youngsters.

Millions of Protestant church women across the country are deep in a study of their own and other families to find the answers to two basic questions:

How can Christian parents teach their children to be good neighbors and good citizens?

How many Christian parents are accepting their own responsibilities in church and community life?

The survey on "The Responsible Christian Family" was undertaken this month in preparatoin for May Fellowship day, Friday, May 6. Both the study and the May observance are sponsored by United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches.

In St. Louis, United Church Women will observe Fellowship day with five community meetings.

The study project lays emphasis on parents' attitudes and how they influence youngsters.

Among the specific questions raised are these:

On family relations: Do we respect the rights of each member of the family as an individual?

On neighborliness: What do we do about people who seem lonely in our own church, or those who spend long hours forgotten in hospitals and institutions?

On community and social issues: What would we do if a family of a different racial group wanted to buy the property next door? How would we react if someone we know or trusted were accused of Communist leanings?

The study project is thus described by Mrs. Spann W. Milner of Atlanta, Ga.: "These questions, and others like them, are based on our belief that the Christian family instills in its members concepts that are basic both to democracy and religion: the worth of the individual and the brotherhood of man."

Through their studies and discussions the women hope to help their own and other families put their religious faith into action to make their homes happier and their communities better places to live.

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN SPONSOR PUBLIC MEETING

The board of managers of United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches, will meet in St. Louis Monday through Thursday. Mrs. James D. Wyker of, New York, formerly of Columbia, Mo., president of U.C.W., will preside.

The board will hold one public meeting, Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Pilgrim Congregational Church, 826 Union boulevard. The speakers will be Mrs. Wyker and Mrs. David D. Baker, editor of publications of U.C.W. They were members of a team of four women who recently made a world tour that included Hawaii, Fiji islands, Australia, Indonesia, India, Pakistan, Kenya, Uganda, Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon, and Germany.

How serious is it to disobey God?

Public officials today are alarmed at the increase of crime and other forms of delinquency.

We should all be alarmed, especially when we realize that this social breakdown stems from a tragic neglect of the Divine law which is the very origin of all civil authority. Some people say, and others act as if this great expression of divine order, the Ten Commandments, has even been abolished.

It is little wonder that when adults seemingly have swept away the foundation, youth should have little respect for the tottering superstructure.

We often forget that the law of God is so vital in the universal plan that Christ was sent from heaven to redeem man from the results of his disobedience to it.

As man's teacher, Christ explained the law fully. As man's example, He obeyed it fully. As man's substitute, He paid its penalty fully—He died in our place. "I am not come to destroy," Christ said, "but to fulfil."

And now, having fulfilled the requirements of the law Himself, Christ says: "Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 5:17-19.

But Seventh-day Adventists do not believe that Christ suggested that the keeping of commandments is a ticket to heaven. It is rather an acknowledgment that one has accepted Christ's way in his own life.

A thoroughly interesting booklet, giving pointers to help you apply this often-forgotten standard to the problems facing you, your family and your community is now available. Tear out this coupon and mail it today. You will always be glad you did.

Lawrence Finally Finds Plate and 1954 Form in Taming Braves

Unearned Run Ruins A Shutout

MILWAUKEE

Batteries: Cardinals—Jackson and D. Rice; Milwaukee — Nichols and Crandall.

By Jack Rice
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff

MILWAUKEE, April 23 — It was a difficult search, and it took all spring, but now the Cardinals' Brooks Lawrence has found what he was looking for—home plate. As the man said when he finally located the keyhole at 4 a.m., he knew it was there all along but it sure led him a merry chase.

Lawrence was one of the less encouraging sights in spring training, and his groping carried over into the regular season. Nine runs were scored against the Redbird pitcher in five innings, during the first three games he worked.

Last night against Milwaukee "The Bull" pitched a complete game, the Cards' second this week, for a 2-1 victory. It made a fine companion piece to Rookie Larry Jackson's complete game Sunday, to Barney Schultz's victory in relief Tuesday, and Rookie Luis Arroyo's victory, with an assist by Herb Moford, Wednesday at Cincinnati.

It's enough to make the unwary believe Cardinal pitching has designs on grandeur, but faith grows slowly over a 154-game schedule. For the moment, there is the pleasant thought that the Redbirds have begun a two-week trip with an earned-run-average of 0.00 for the first two games. Wednesday's 3-0 score, and last night's, are first-inning totals by last year's standards.

Silence might deserve precedence over optimism on a staff scale for a while, but Lawrence was not encouraging it. He wasn't loud, but he was positive, and he was articulate.

A well-wisher told him to get 19 more victories. That way lies the big money. "Next year," said Lawrence, grinning, "they're gonna have to put 'Brooks Lawrence' up on that scoreboard at home."

"I got the ball over the plate," he said when asked to summarize the secret of his success, or reform. He made sound use of a sinker, and added, "They expected me to come by land but I came by sea," a statement that means a pitcher can guess what the batter is guessing, and throw something else.

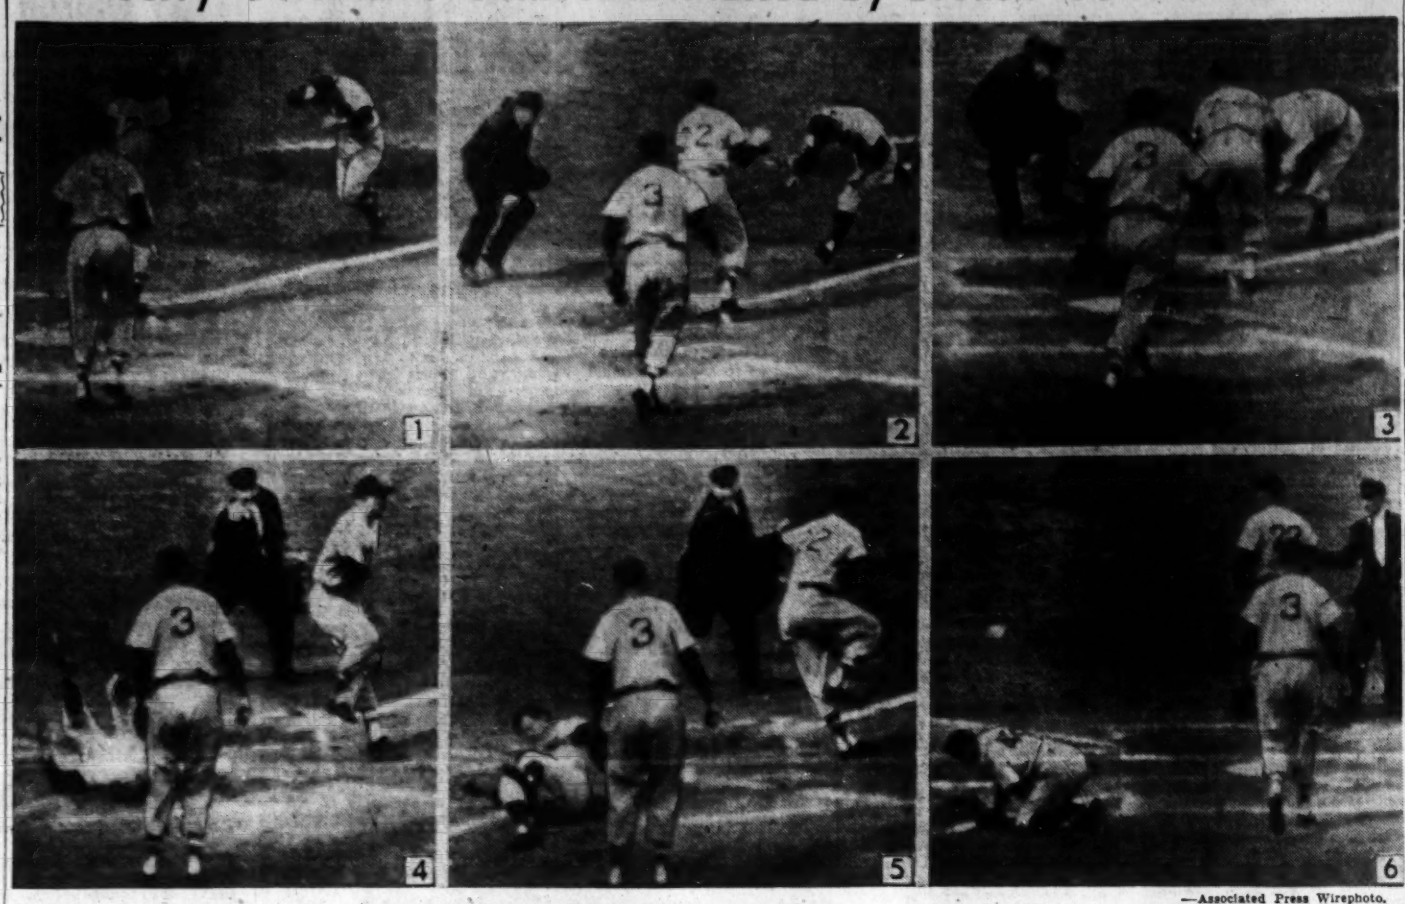
He kept the ball low, and one such pitch to Joe Adcock had a double-play dividend in the ninth, the inning the Braves scored their unearned run. For seven other innings he retired the first man to come to bat, and "that first man is the biggest man in the park," said Lawrence. "Get him, and you've taken away the bunt and a lot of their other chances to move along a run."

Twice Lawrence retired Brave R.B.I. leader Bobby Thomson with a man on base, and he struck out that still idle home-run threat, Eddie Mathews, with a man on base. That's more than an average night's good work.

At bat, the Cardinals won with the short game against their ancient and honorable adversary, Warren Spahn. Wally Moon bunted and beat it out as lead-off man, in the first inning. He advanced on an infield out and an infield hit by Rip Repulski, and scored on a bloop single by Harry Elliott. Schoendienst doubled, aand scored on Stan Musial's single in the third.

Milwaukee's run was a scramble, a lead-off infield single by Bob Thomson that picked up a base, including the fourth one, on each of two errors. It was forgiveable, for to err is human, and after a long wait, Lawrence had come to pitch with the skill he showed in 1954, when he won 15 and lost 6.

Jerry Coleman's Comeback Halted by Broken Collarbone



—Associated Press Wirephoto.

This sequence shows play in which New York Yankee Second Baseman JERRY COLEMAN suffered a fracture of the left collarbone in collision with Red Sox Shortstop OWEN FRIEND (22) at home plate in game at Yankee Stadium yesterday. Trapped between third and home during an attempted double steal, Coleman dove for the plate and fell after the tag. Watching are Boston First Baseman NORBERT ZAUCHIN (3) and Umpire LARRY NAPP.

NEW YORK, April 23 (UP)—A fractured collarbone of the same type suffered by Ted Williams a year ago has cast a sudden shadow over Jerry Coleman's gallant comeback with the New York Yankees.

The skinny, 30-year-old veteran of two hitches as a pilot in the Marine Air Corps went sprawling on home plate at Yankee Stadium in the third inning of yesterday's game against the Boston Red Sox and came up clutching his shoulder in pain.

Doctors at Lenox Hill Hospital, where Coleman was X-rayed and his shoulder put into a cast, diagnosed the injury as "a comminuted middle fracture of the left clavicle." They said the spunky second baseman will be out of action "six or eight weeks."

However, Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugging star, suffered a similar fracture when he took a spill on the opening day of spring training last season and was out of action 10 weeks. When Williams returned, he broke in gradually as a pinch-hitter.

Coleman, though a pesky hitter, must regain his fine fielding ability before he re-establishes his value to the Yankees. He also faces a stiff fight to retake a starting berth. He was replaced in the lineup by Gil McDougald, just recovered from a minor injury and always a stronger hitter than Coleman.

Coleman had been playing at shortstop as well as second base.

Stewart Hurls One-Hitter as Missouri Wins

AMES, Iowa, April 23 (AP)—Lanky Norm Stewart pitched a no-hitter for 8⅓ innings yesterday as Missouri's defending national collegiate baseball champions defeated Iowa State, 7-0, opening the Big Seven season.

The 6 foot 4 righthander allowed only two batters to reach base until the ninth when Arnie Gaarde smashed a hit off shortstop Bill Heimann's glove.

Stewart, who struck out nine, has a string of 28 consecutive scoreless innings without an earned run.

Bob Musgrade clinced the victory for Missouri in the fourth inning with a two-run home run. Jay Hankins got three hits in five attempts for the Tigers, including a two-run double in the fifth.

Lockman Shines as Giants End Dodger Winning Streak

NEW YORK, April 23 (UP)—Heroes Incorporated were back in business today thanks to Whitey Lockman, the Giants' double-duty beauty who stopped the runaway Dodgers, first with a big hit, and then with a brilliant fielding play.

It was like 1954 all over again last night in Brooklyn when the Giants, trailing 3-0, whizzed five runs across in an eighth inning rally. Don Mueller had singled two men home and Lockman followed with a sliced double to left to score two more, then came streaking in himself when Dodger shortstop Don Zimmer made a wild throw into the Brooklyn dugout.

Brooklyn, fighting to keep alive its record 10-game getaway winning streak, filled the bases with none out off Marv Grissom. After one run scored on an infield out to make it 5-4, Jackie Robinson tried to squeeze in the tying run, but alert Lockman raced in, took the bunt and threw the runner out at the plate. That gave the Giants a 5-4 triumph.

"Well, you didn't expect Brooklyn to win 'em all did you?" asked Manager Leo Durocher, soliloquizing over what he called a "mightly wonderful win." Then he took a measure of credit for the smothering of the Dodger squeeze.

"I knew Robinson had been doing that for years, so I alerted Lockman," Durocher added. "And the hunch paid off."

Manager Walt Alston, tossed out of the game for protesting the plate call by Umpire Babe Pinelli on the play, insisted Zimmer, the runner, was safe. But he blamed himself for not having Zimmer break on a "suicide squeeze" emphasizing that "there wouldn't have been any question about it that way."

In other National League games, the Cardinals edged the Braves, 2-1. The Phils put over five runs in the ninth, three on a homer by Del Ennis, to top the Pirates, 5-4, and Chicago beat Cincinnati, 6-3. Cleveland topped Detroit, 8-5, while the Yankees blanked the Red Sox, 3-0, on Whitey Ford's second straight shutout in American League highlight games. Washington edged Baltimore, 3-2, and Chicago subdued Kansas City, 5-3.

Ennis, who had batted in only one other run all season, capped a winning rally by the Phils, who had been held to two hits by Bob Purkey for the first eight innings.

Ex-Redleg Lloyd Merriman provided the winning punch for the Cubs with a three-run seventh inning double. He also hit a homer.

Lemon Needs Help.

Bob Lemon needed relief help from Ray Narleski to score his third victory, in which Larry Doby homered for Cleveland and Fred Hatfield and Ray Boone for Detroit.

The White Sox took over first place in the American. Virgil Trucks scored his first victory, although needing relief help from Sandy Consuegra and Morrie Martin. Al Carrasquel homered for Chicago and Gus Zernial for K. C.

Ford, who now has pitched 21 scoreless winnings and allowed only one run in three brilliant starts, held Boston to seven hits in a duel with Frank Sullivan. Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer hit homers in the victory.

Washington used five pitchers and Baltimore five pinch-hitters in a weird strategy battle in the seventh inning, but a two-run homer earlier by Jim Busby stood up for the winning Washington margin. Mickey McDermott, who held Baltimore to four hits for six innings, was the winner.

It's Nashua Against Summer Tan in Wood

NEW YORK, April 23 UP)(—It was Nashua against Summer Tan at Jamaica today in the $111,700 Wood Memorial! About 50,000 intrigued turf fans, puzzled as to which of these two brilliant colts actually was the better horse, were expected to see the race.

Three other Kentucky Derby candidates were entered in the mile and one-eighth stake which has not pointed out the Churchill Downs winner since Assault romped home for the King Ranch in 1946.

They were Mrs. Dorothy P. Beltz's Simmy, Rokeby Stable's Cup Man and Lazy F. Ranch's Door Prize. But the overnight line gave them little chance to upset Belair Stud's Nashua, the 1954 juvenile champion, and Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan, honored with high weight in the Experimental Handicap rankings.

Four times the husky son of Nasrullah from Belair and the free-running Summer Tan clashed as two-year-olds. Three times Nashua beat his rival in photo finishes. Once he bowed by a length and a half as Summer Tan, enjoying a four pound pull in the weights, set a new track record of 1:16 for six and a half furlongs in the Cowdin Stakes at Aqeduct.

Today each starter carried scale weight of 126 pounds, the same impost they will carry an eighth of a mile farther in the Kentucky Derby May 7.

Nashua currently is favored at 8 to 5 to win the Derby and give Belair its fourth victory. But for the Wood he was second choice at 9 to 10 against 7 to 10 for Summer Tan.

Ted Atkinson, who has exercised Nashua but never ridden him in a race, was scheduled to handle the bay colt. He replaced Eddie Arcaro, who is under suspension but will be back in time to ride Nashua in the Derby.

Eric Guerin, who guided Summer Tan to four stakes victories a year ago, was up on the favorite. He won the Wood in 1953 with Native Dancer but Atkinson sought his first victory in the classic.

Nashua has won three races this year, including the Flamingo Stakes and the Florida Derby. He has earned $209,475 this season to swell his lifetime mark to $402,340. But he was "outworked" by Summer Tan Monday as each colt went through his final prep for the Wood between races at Jamaica.

Houston Nips San Antonio in 17 Innings, 5-3

HOUSTON, Tex., April 23 (UP)—It took the Houston Buffs 17 innings to overcome the Texas League leading San Antonio Missions yesterday, 5 to 3, behind the superb relief pitching of Francisco Ramirez and Harry Hoitsman, who held the Missions hitless during the last eight innings and allowed only one man to reach base, and that on an error.

But two of the other three remaining games were no less exciting as Jim Koranda's first home run of the season in the bottom of the ninth gave Fort Worth a 2 to 1 decision over Oklahoma City, and another last-of-the-ninth homer, this one a three-run clout, pulled out a 6 to 5 verdict for Dallas over Tulsa. Beaumont beat Shreveport 8 to 2.

An error by Kal Segrist, who had handled 10 chances cleanly, set up the winning Houston runs in the seventeenth. A blooper single by Bob Reis and consecutive singles by Alan Grandcolas, Hal Smith and Hoitsman, the third Buff hurler, accounted for the Houston tallies.

Raschi Free Agent.

Vic Raschi, veteran righthander, upon whom the Cardinals asked for waivers earlier in the week, was given his unconditional release by the Redbirds today, after all major league clubs had waived on the hurler.

Raschi, now a free agent, can now make a deal with any club desiring his services.

MILWAUKEE, April 23—Cardinal President August A. Busch, looking every bit the Redbird as he sat in a third-base box and a club uniform heavy jacket, said he came here on intra-club business, and only for the night. No outside deals. Busch did not come to the game dressed for the chill weather, so he borrowed team gear.

Pitcher Jack Faszholz was optioned out, on 24-hour recall, to Rochester in the International League. Discussion with Manager Stanky of the Cardinal pitching staff took two hours, said Busch. The summary? "I'm very enthused."

Harvey Haddix will start for the Birds tomorrow in the final game of the series here.

Faszholz's departure cuts the Cardinal pitching staff to 12 men. On the surface, Stanky conceded, it appears Faszholz has been sent away without due consideration. He pitched only eight innings in exhibition games, and had the best earned-run average of the squad. He didn't make one pitch in the regular season.

"But I'd rather have him out where he can work," said Stanky, and on 24-hour recall. He can quickly rejoin the club." Stanky made the point to Faszholz in a half-hour conversation.

Ken Boyer, two-inch cut on the knee and all, played third base, under instructions not to slide, last night. "He said he'd like to challenge it," said Stanky. (Boyer was hurt Wednesday, and still favors the knee.) "I told him he could, but he wasn't to slide under any condition. He countered with, 'unless it means something.' So, you see, I can't even get in the last word with my athletes." Stanky was proud of his failure with the last word.

The attendance at the game, Milwaukee's night opener, was 29,773. "Too cold," a man said. "Held down the crowd."

Ed Furgol Has 132 Total in Virginia Golf

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., April 23 (UP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver and Marty Furgol, a pair of seasoned golfers now playing out of Lemont, Ill., shared the lead at the start of third round play today in the Virginia Beach open tournament.

Both men turned in four-under-par 65s in the second round and reached the halfway mark of the 72-hole tournament with aggregate scores of 130 and a one-stroke lead over a closely bunched field.

Early leaders John Serafin of West Pittston, Pa., and Ted Kroll of Utica, N.Y., who fired five-under-par 64s in the opening round, slipped to sixth place yesterday with two over-par 71s.

Tied for second at 131 are British open champion Peter Thompson of Melbourne, Australia, and Chandler Harper of Chattanooga. Harper had a 65 yesterday to go with a 66 first round showing. Thompson has a 65-66-131 score.

U. S. open champion Ed Furgol of St. Louis, Mo., remained one stroke behind the British champ with consistent 66-66-132 scoring. Also bracketed at 132 are Dave Douglas, Wilmington, Del., and Fred Wampler, Indianapolis, Ind.

Ivan Gantz of Indianapolis is low in the senior division with 68-66-134.

The tournament winds up tomorrow with a $2400 slice of the prize money going to the winner.

Pastrano and Troy Fight to 10-Round Draw

CHICAGO, April 23 (UP)—Willie Troy, a hard-punching middleweight from Washington, and Willie Pastrano, a shifty boxer from New Orleans, battled to a 10-round draw last night in a nationally-televised bout in the Chicago stadium.

Pastrano, at 166 pounds, weighed in at the heaviest in his 37 pro scraps. Troy, for his thirty-fourth battle, weighed 160½.

The battle lines were drawn quickly as Pastrano resorted to his flashy speed and counter-punching to win the early rounds. But then Troy, who has scored 23 knockouts, took charge.

He forced his way into clinches to nullify Pastrano's speed, and then he worked on Pastrano's speed, and then he worked on Pastrano's kidneys, mid-section and tried steadily for his head, to pile up points constantly.

Judge Frank McAdams gave Pastrano the nod by a 95-90 count, but Judge Ed Hintz and referee Frank Gilmer had the brawl even, Gilmer making it 96-96 and Hintz 94-94.

Boston Doge Is Out of Derby

BOSTON, April 23 (AP)—Unbeaten Boston Doge, the sprinting bay colt, will not run in the Kentucky Derby.

Owner Paul Andolino has announced that Boston Doge will appear in the $25,000 added Delaware Stakes at Garden State Park in New Jersey May 7 instead of the Blue Grass Classic.

Boston Doge has won all 10 of his races—but all have been at short sprint distances.

McKinley Gets Only Four Hits, But Trims Lutheran

Goldbugs Rally in Seventh

By John J. Archibald

McKinley furnished additional facts yesterday that Coach Julius Blanke's gang is not going to be counted out early. The Goldbugs lost their best pitcher and eight of their nine regulars of last year's Public League championship, but Blanke's "veteran rookies" have won their first two league games and yesterday they beat one of the district's best pitchers in a practice game.

Lutheran High's Rich Beumer was McKinley's victim, 2 to 1, on a damp Cherokee Park diamond. McKinley got only four hits off Beumer, but two of them were singles in the last of the seventh by Jerry Moore and Phil Portell. Moore had advanced to second on an infield out and Portell's drive scored him with the game-ending run.

Don Mitchell was McKinley's hurler and he yielded only three hits. Ralph Hochgrebe walloped a home run off Mitchell in the first inning, but that ended Lutheran's scoring. Gary Zellinger tripled in the fifth, but he was thrown out at home when he tried to make it a four-bagger.

McKinley waited until the sixth to tie the game. Eddie Meyer tripled and came in on Bob Wesolich's hit.

Many of the present McKinley regulars are boys who have been suiting up for Blanke for three or four seasons, seldom getting in a game, but learning all the while.

A great running catch of a line drive by Left Fielder Joe Heimlicher saved a non-league game for Webster Groves. Webster defeated Ladue, 7 to 5, but it took the spectacular play by Heimlicher to close off a three-run rally by Ladue in the last of the seventh. There were two out and runners on second and third at the time.

Dick Hopkins continued his fine hitting for Webster with two doubles and a single in four times up. John Morrical had a triple and a single in two official chances for the Ladue Rams.

Bill Kersten pitched a three-hit shutout as Riverview Gardens defeated Pattonville, 4 to 0. All of Pattonville's safeties came in the sixth inning. Larry Anderson got two-for-three for Riverview, giving him 16 hits in 21 times at bat.

Assumption improved its season record to eight victories and two losses with an 8-3 victory over Lincoln of East St. Louis.

St. Mary's Nine Wins, Leads in C.A.C. League

St. Mary's High made hay while the sun shone—what there was of it yesterday—and took over first place in the Catholic Athletic Conference with a 3-1 victory over Laboure in a game played at Cardondelet Park.

The triumph gave Vern Winter's Green Dragons a 3-0 mark, while De Andreis, previously tied with 2-0, was prevented from playing its game with Mercy because of wet grounds. Also called off was the third league game, Du Bourg vs. McBride at Sherman Park, as well as a Southwestern Illinois Conference contest—East St. Louis at Granite City.

Belleville Cathedral increased its Catholic League record to 4-0 with a 12-0 triumph over St. Peter's of St. Charles on the two-hit pitching of Bill Hartoin.

St. Mary's scored all its runs in the fifth when Frankie Bonastia singled with one gone and stole second. John Anton walked. Both runners advanced on Ken Plassmeyer's long fly. Norm Valenta singled home two runs and stole second. Tom Ahrens then singled, scoring Valenta with the third and final tally.

Laboure tallied against Wally Schmitt in the next inning when Ralph Eisele reached base on an error and tallied on Tom Lauer's double—the only extra base hit of the game.

Glen King, the losing pitcher, yielded only four hits, one fewer than Schmitt gave up.

U. City Stars Seek Records At Maplewood

University City's flashes — Rich Hammerstein and Don Wolff—will have a couple of Indian records to shoot at when they compete in the annual Maplewood relays this afternoon.

Hammerstein, a hurdler, will have his eyes on the 14.6 mark posted by U. City's Dick Waxman in 1952, while Dave Rosenberg, who ran for Henry Schemmer's Tribe a year ago is responsible for the 9.9 mark for the 100 on the Maplewood records.

Rosenberg had to beat St. Louis U. High's Jim Degnan to post the new mark. Whether Wolff will have anybody to press him remains to be seen.

The open events will start at 2 o'clock when the final is held in the high hurdles. The 100-yard dash will follow 15 minutes later.

U. City, the defending open and relays champion, will have competition from 18 other schools, including one Southwestern Illinois Conference entry—Edwardsville.

St. Louis U. High, runner-up to University City in last week's Clayton invitational, figures to score well, although Beaumont may press not only the Indians but also the Junior Billikens.

Other schools include Normandy, Ladue, St. Charles, Kirkwood, Webster Groves, Country Day, C.B.C., Hadley, Cleveland, Central, Roosevelt, Soldan-Blewett, Southwest and McBride.

Dual meets held yesterday resulted as follows:

Hancock 150 1-6, Affton 34 5-6; Chaminade 98 2-3, DuBourg 87½; Ferguson 140, DeAndreis 73; Madison 91, Dupo 27.

Dave Merz of Hancock won the shot put, discus and 880-yard run and finished second in the high jump to be the individual star.

Leaders Retain Their Places in A.B.C. Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind., April 23 (AP)—Leaders in the American Bowling Congress tournament remained unchanged after yesterday's shooting.

Hamm's of St. Paul, Minn., appeared headed for one of the top spots in the team action. After the first two games the Minnesota bowlers had a 2034 total on games of 1027 and 1006, but they lost their zip in the final game and finished with 961 and a 2995 total.

That was a long way from the leading 3136 posted earlier this week by Pfeiffer team of Detroit. It also was four pins short of putting the St. Paul team into the first 10 teams.

There was lots of activity all day with doubles, singles and team shooting. But after the firing ended the leaders remained undisturbed.

The annual convention of A.B.C. directors and delegates ended yesterday with election of Frank G. Mitzel, of Detroit, as president. He succeeds John J. McManus, of North Bergen, N.J., officially Aug. 1.

DIEM SEEKS POLL ON ELECTION FOR SOUTH VIET NAM

To Abide by People's Verdict on His Remaining in Office, Lists 4 Questions.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, April 23 (AP)—Embattled Premier Ngo Dinh Diem called on South Viet Nam's 11,000,000 inhabitants today to write him whether they want general elections in the next few months.

Diem said in a broadcast to the nation the poll would be held in a week. He said he would abide by the people's verdict and that when a permanent legislature is formed he would obey its decision to accept or reject him as premier.

The voters will be asked to give yes or no answers to these questions:

1. Are you in favor of general elections?
2. Are you for unification of the armies?
3. Do you want the reconquest of our total sovereignty and final consolidation of our independence?
4. Do you wish a program of social reform including agrarian reform, public works enlargement, freedom of the press and development of the country's economy?

Diem appealed to the Bind Xuyen society and Hoa Hao religious sect which are now opposing him to lay down their arms in order to make elections possible.

He repeated his desire to meet with leaders of these dissident groups to discuss integration of their private troops into the national army.

By the United Press.

Informed sources said yesterday Premier Diem's government soon may be replaced by a "council of wise men" to end the political deadlock in South Viet Nam.

It was reported that the proposal would be placed before French and American authorities here. Such a governing council, the sources said, would be composed of "representative" leaders, including those of the rebellious political-religious sects hostile to Diem. It would rule the country as an oligarchy, assisted by a cabinet of technicians.

Political Crisis in Viet Nam Aired Fully Before Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The political crisis in South Viet Nam was aired fully before President Eisenhower and high State and Defense Department officials yesterday by Gen. J. Lawton Collins.

The President's personal representative to Saigon gave no inkling of his recommendations after a one and a half hour White House meeting.

Collins, on his return Thursday from Saigon, had said the situation is grave.

Under Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson, who sat in on the luncheon conference with Collins, were noncommittal on what was said.

United States officials again emphasized that this country is supporting the legal Viet Namese national government. However, this would not preclude moves to strengthen or expand the government so long as the initiative comes from the Viet Namese themselves, the informants said.

State Department officials also conferred with Viet Namese Ambassador Tran Van Chuong, who returned this week from consultations in Saigon.

RED CHINESE WARSHIP SAID TO HAVE SUNK WITH 1300

HONG KONG, April 23 (AP)—The crew of the Dutch cargo ship Boutman said today that a Communist Chinese warship with 1300 aboard sank in Hangchow bay last Sunday after striking a rock.

They said when they arrived at the scene five hours later, they saw "no trace of the 1300 passengers and crew. Only the funnel of the warship was visible above the water. Many Chinese naval craft were in the area."

The Boutman, steaming from Japan to Shanghai, was diverted to answer a distress call, heard in Hong Kong, from the Chinese warship, identified as "Mingtse No. 3." The Boutman arrived in Hong Kong today.

ATOMIC-POWERED NAUTILUS TURNED OVER TO THE NAVY

GROTON, Conn., April 23 (AP)—The nuclear-powered submarine Nautilus was turned over to the Navy yesterday at the submersible's dock at the Electric Boat Division of the General Dynamics Corp.

Capt. John E. Lee, commander of the submarine base here, accepted the ship on behalf of the commanding officer of the Third Naval District from Carleton Shuggs, General Dynamics vice president and general manager of Electric Boat, which built the ship.

Present at the ceremony were Comdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson, commanding officer of the Nautilus, which underwent a long series of shakedown cruises prior to the ceremony, and Capt. Robert L. Moore, Navy supervisor of shipbuilding stationed at Electric Boat.

The Nautilus has been assigned to the submarine force, United States Atlantic Fleet, for training. It will be based at the submarine base, about two miles up the Thames river from the General Dynamics plant.

PUBLISHER CONVICTED UNDER SMITH ACT GETS NEW TRIAL

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., April 23 (UP)—Alexander Trachtenberg, 71-year-old New York publisher sentenced to a three-year term last February under the Smith Act, was ordered released today from the United States Medical Center here for a new trial in New York.

Trachtenberg's release order was signed by J. Edward Lumbard, government attorney, who said bail had been posted in New York and the Government had waived commissioners' appearance in Springfield. The order was approved by J. V. Bennett, director of federal prisons.

Trachtenberg arrived here Feb. 4. E. J. Lloyd, acting warden, said the elderly convict was not seriously ill but "suffering the infirmities of age."

GOVERNORS MEET AGAIN AS STRIKE VIOLENCE FLARES

L. & N. Tracks Dynamited—3 Other Roads Curtail Service Due to Picketing.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 23 (AP)—Governors of three states went into session today to try to end a 41-day-old Southern Bell Telephone Co. strike. Meanwhile new violence broke out in a Southern rail strike of the same duration.

Govs. Hugh White of Mississippi, James Folsom of Alabama, and Marvin Griffin of Georgia met in Griffin's office, prepared to hear hour-long presentations from each side in the phone strike. They are dealing only with the phone problem.

A few hours earlier a dynamite blast ripped the main tracks of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad near London, Ky.

A short time before this, side effects of the L. & N. walkout spread further in Birmingham, Ala., when operation of three additional railroads were crippled by sympathy demonstrations. Pickets halted train crews at the interchange yard of the Illinois Central, Frisco and Central of Georgia.

Telephone Dispute.

A long session on the nine-state telephone dispute was indicated as White commented "We're prepared to stay here until we settle this thing."

Representatives of the CIO Communication Workers of America stated their case at first, followed by telephone company negotiators.

The Birmingham pickets said they acted because the three lines affected had been handling freight from the L. & N.

Meanwhile members of the National Mediation Board prepared to make new attempts to settle the long and costly dispute.

Governors' Deadline.

The board went back in session today with rail and union officials. A spokesman said all were aware that today was the deadline set by southern Governors for settling the strike of 25,000 workers but did not know what could be done if the settlement isn't reached. All sides stuck to their policy of no comment on the conferences.

At Lake Success, N.Y., the Sperry Gyroscope Co., after a promise from union leaders to prevent further violence, today called non-strikers back to work Monday.

Earlier picket line fighting, in which one man died of a heart attack and two others were seriously hurt, had prompted the company to tell non-strikers not to try to cross the lines.

'Consent Judgment.'

But in a mediation session yesterday before State Supreme Court Justice Irving L. Levey, the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers agreed to a "consent judgment" designed to avert further outbursts.

The union's 9000 members at three company production plants on Long Island walked out Monday in a demand for an 18-cents hourly increase in wages, now averaging $2. The company offered 12 cents spread over three years.

The tieup has made idle all the company's 16,000 employes, and brought production to a standstill.

Under the "consent judgment," the union agreed to abstain from violence. With limited picketing the conditions will prevail while Judge Levy works to iron out a settlement.

Most of the company's output of electronics goes to the armed forces.

In another major strike, involving some 23,000 CIO textile workers against 24 mills in four New England states, there was some hope of settlement.

A federal mediator opened talks at Lewiston, Me., with representatives of the Bates Manufacturing Co. and spokesmen for 6000 of the firm's workers who are on strike. The hope was for a pattern of settlement for all of the strikes. The chief issue is wages.

ESTATE OF HARRY L. SWIFT IS VALUED AT $869,635

The estate of Harry L. Swift, board chairman of the L. B. Price Mercantile Co., 4702 Olive street, was valued at $869,635 in an inventory filed at Clayton today.

Assets included 10,349 shares of common stock of the Price firm, valued at $175,933; other stocks, $454,497; cash, $122,354, and bonds, $112,977.

Swift, who died last Feb. 11, in his will left the bulk of his estate to his wife and three daughters, Mrs. Mary Swift Cullom, New Orleans; Mrs. William H. Lewis, Carlyle Barracks, Pa., and Mrs. James I. Miller, who lives at the Swift home, 7233 Kingsbury boulevard, University City. Swift had been connected with the Price firm, which makes door-to-door sales of household articles, more than 60 years.

JAPANESE ARE VOTING TODAY FOR GOVERNORS, MAYORS

TOKYO, April 23 (AP)—Japan voted today for 19 governors, big city mayors and other local officials.

Weather was generally mild. The election was expected to test sentiment toward the new national government of Conservative Prime Minister Hatoyama. Most local candidates are not running under party labels, but are clearly identified with Japan's national political blocs.

Havana Award for Dr. Salk.

HAVANA, Cuba, April 23 (UP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, discoverer of the anti-polio vaccine, yesterday was awarded the City of Havana's gold medal, first class, by vote of the city council.

CHOU OFFERS TO TALK TO U.S. ABOUT FORMOSA

Dag Hammarskjold said he could see no merit in suggestions that the United Nations take up the Formosa question at the present time.

Chou's statement was timed a day ahead of the scheduled arrival in Formosa of Adm. Arthur W. Radford, head of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson. They will confer with Nationalists Chinese leaders, presumably about the hot question of the United States position on defense of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Conference Ends Tomorrow

Meanwhile, with the conference scheduled to end tomorrow, the delegates remained deadlocked over a demand by the anti-Communist nations for censure of Soviet as well as Western imperialism.

The fight over the wording of the peace resolution arose after Turkey and Pakistan, both allied with the West, insisted that any motion referring to peaceful coexistence also must contain a reference to the right of nations to join collective defense pacts.

A special subcommittee of the political committee seeking a compromise resolution on the colonialism issue met for two hours this morning, with Chou present, but failed to reach a settlement.

For the second straight day, the anti-Communist bloc headed by Pakistan, Turkey, Iran and the Philippines refused to budge from their demands that "both types of colonialism" be condemned.

"We'll be surprised if we finish this today," V. K. Krishna Menon, Nehru's chief adviser, told reporters after the session broke up. Nehru, supporting a Red Chinese resolution, has insisted that the conference stand on colonialism should not be clouded by attacks on Communism.

Chou is reported to have taken little part in the closed debate, leaving the wrangling to representatives of the neutralist and anti-Communist blocs.

The resolution supported by the anti-Red bloc does not mention Communism by name. It calls for condemnation of "all types of colonialism including international doctrines resorting to methods of force, infiltration and subversion."

Before issuing his formal statement Chou had refused to give out any details of his reported stand at the luncheon gathering. After the informal get-together, he brushed into the conference meeting place surrounded by his usual bodyguard.

Red Leader Smiles.

Reporters asked him if he had anything good to say. For the first time at the conference the stern-faced Chinese smiled.

His bodyguard cut off reporters and Chou went into the meeting room.

Sir John Kotelawala, the Prime Minister of Ceylon, arrived hurriedly at the meeting place and was asked how things were.

"I am feeling fine," he said. "It is very good."

Pakistan's Prime Minister earlier had told reporters that the Colombo powers met with Chou and several other delegates at the luncheon. Ali said the group empowered Chou to make a statement.

At a morning committee session, Chou had said: "China does not want war with the United States."

He also invited any delegates who had any suggestion that would release the tension to speak up.

Chou made the statements in a 60-minute speech before a closed meeting of the conference's political committee. Delegates said the Peiping chief did not specifically mention Formosa, but they quoted him as declaring:

"We want to settle all our disputes with peaceful means. If there are any here who can facilitate settlement of disputes between China and the United States they will be most welcome.

"I respect the political and economic systems of the United States, and China has no intention of going to war with the United States."

It was the Red premier's second big speech to the 29-nation gathering. In his opening address last Monday, he accused the United States of continuing "to create tension in the Taiwan (Formosa) area" and trying to overthrow his government.

Chou spoke today in a debate over a resolution sponsored by pro-Western Pakistan which would put the conference on record as favoring collective security pacts at the same time it appealed for peace.

Attacks Manila Pact.

Chou hotly attacked the Western-backed Manila pact, setting up a collective security system for Southeast Asia, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"If SEATO and NATO are allowed to exist, China will be forced to seek alliances with others," he declared, leaving the inference that his nation was not presently bound to the Soviet Union.

India's neutralist Premier Nehru yesterday denounced NATO as "one of the most powerful protectors of colonialism."

Before Chou took the floor, Philippine Delegate Carlos Romulo defended the Manila pact (SEATO) as necessary because of the Communist threat. The Manila government is a signatory to that pact.

"Coexistence with Communists is dangerous," Romulo said. "The empires on which the sun never set are departing from Asia. What we have to fear now are the new empires which are rising over which, we know, the sun never rises."

Delegates said Chou's speech today was concentrated chiefly on an appeal for a lessening of world tensions. He asked the conference to "leave aside ideologies" and declared:

"Although the situation is tense, let us not lose the peace."

The Chinese Premier strongly backed the "five principles of coexistence" sponsored by Nehru. His indorsement was the strongest yet in the drive to gain conference support for the idea of peaceful coexistence between Communism and differing social systems.

Chou was quoted as saying the parley did not necessarily have to approve the five principles advanced by Nehru, but declared that some form of peaceful coexistence should be maintained.

Reporting he had been told by Nehru that British Prime Minister Eden also supported the Indian coexistence program, Chou offered to sign a joint declaration embodying these principles with Eden.

Advice by Nehru.

Nehru advised the Asian-African nations yesterday "not to degrade yourselves by becoming camp followers of one or the other of the Big Four power blocs."

In his extemporaneous remarks today, Romulo said he had been forced to speak as a result of the Indian Prime Minister's attack on the Manila treaty.

He accused Nehru of making references to the pact which were "inaccurate and unfair" and said it had been motivated "for defensive purposes."

"I speak here for all small nations around this table who cannot say, as Nehru said, that the whole world can blaze into war and India will remain aloof," the Philippine delegate added.

"We small nations cannot say that. We must speak humbly and must always consider that we are only part of the whole and not the whole itself."

By the United Press.

One proposal for settling the Formosa problem came in this conference from Kotelawala. He suggested a trusteeship for Formosa and eventual withdrawal of the United States Seventh Fleet.

Chou, in his conciliatory speech to the conference committee, failed to mention one topic the United States has been waiting to hear as proof of his words—the release of American flyers imprisoned by the Peiping government.

Chou did mention the Cominform, which was attacked earlier this week by Kotelawala as one of the main causes of world tension.

Chou said it would be unfair to dissolve it and commented that the United States has a world-wide intelligence network. This was as close as any Red official ever came to saying the Cominform was an intelligence network.

ISRAEL PROTESTS ON RESOLUTION OK'D AT BANDUNG

Astonished by Proposal Supporting Rights of Arab Nations in Palestine.

JERUSALEM, Israeli sector, April 23 (AP)—Israel sent a message yesterday to the Asian-African conference at Bandung expressing "astonishment and profound regret" at the anti-Israeli resolution adopted by the conference political committee.

Prime Minister Moshe Sharett sent the protest to Indonesian Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo, president of the conference, and asked that it be conveyed to all 29 conference nations.

The Bandung political committee Thursday adopted a resolution declaring support for "the rights of the Arab people in Palestine" and calling for implementationo of "United Nations resolutions on Palestine."

Arabs contend that Israel has refused to comply with U.N. resolutions for repatriation or compensation for Arab refugees from Palestine, and for internationalization of Jerusalem and has overstepped the U.N. plan for Palestine's partition.

Sharett's note said: "Must express Israeli government's astonishment and profound regret that Asian-African conference, from which, despite its principle of universal representation and full international equality, Israel was expressly excluded, has deemed it fair and expedient in Israel's absence to discuss and resolve upon issues vitally affecting Israel's future and her relations with neighboring states."

Peiping Hints Third Party Is Behind Ceylon Attack.

TOKYO, April 23 (AP)—Peiping radio said yesterday the actions of Ceylon's Prime Minister at Bandung arouse "suspicion that behind all this is the scheme of a third party to sabotage the Asian-African conference."

The broadcast, quoting a Red China news agency correspondent at Bandung, did not further identify the "third party." Red China charged before the conference opened that interests linked with the United States were bent on wrecking it.

Sir John Kotelawala, Ceylon's Prime Minister, drew fire for his press conference Thursday morning. At it, he advocated that Formosa be made independent under an international trusteeship. He also called on Red China to disband local Communist groups throughout Asia.

Peiping said Kotelawala's view on Formosa was based on a "distortion of facts." The broadcast charged that Kotelawala, in expressing his views on Communist movements inside various countries, "slandered the Soviet Union, (Red) China and the peoples democracies (Communist countries)."

Americans in the Palace swim.

TOKYO, April 23 (AP)—The imperial carp in the palace moat had visitors yesterday. Five United States Navy frogmen at police request searched for a pistol. They emerged gunless but muddy.

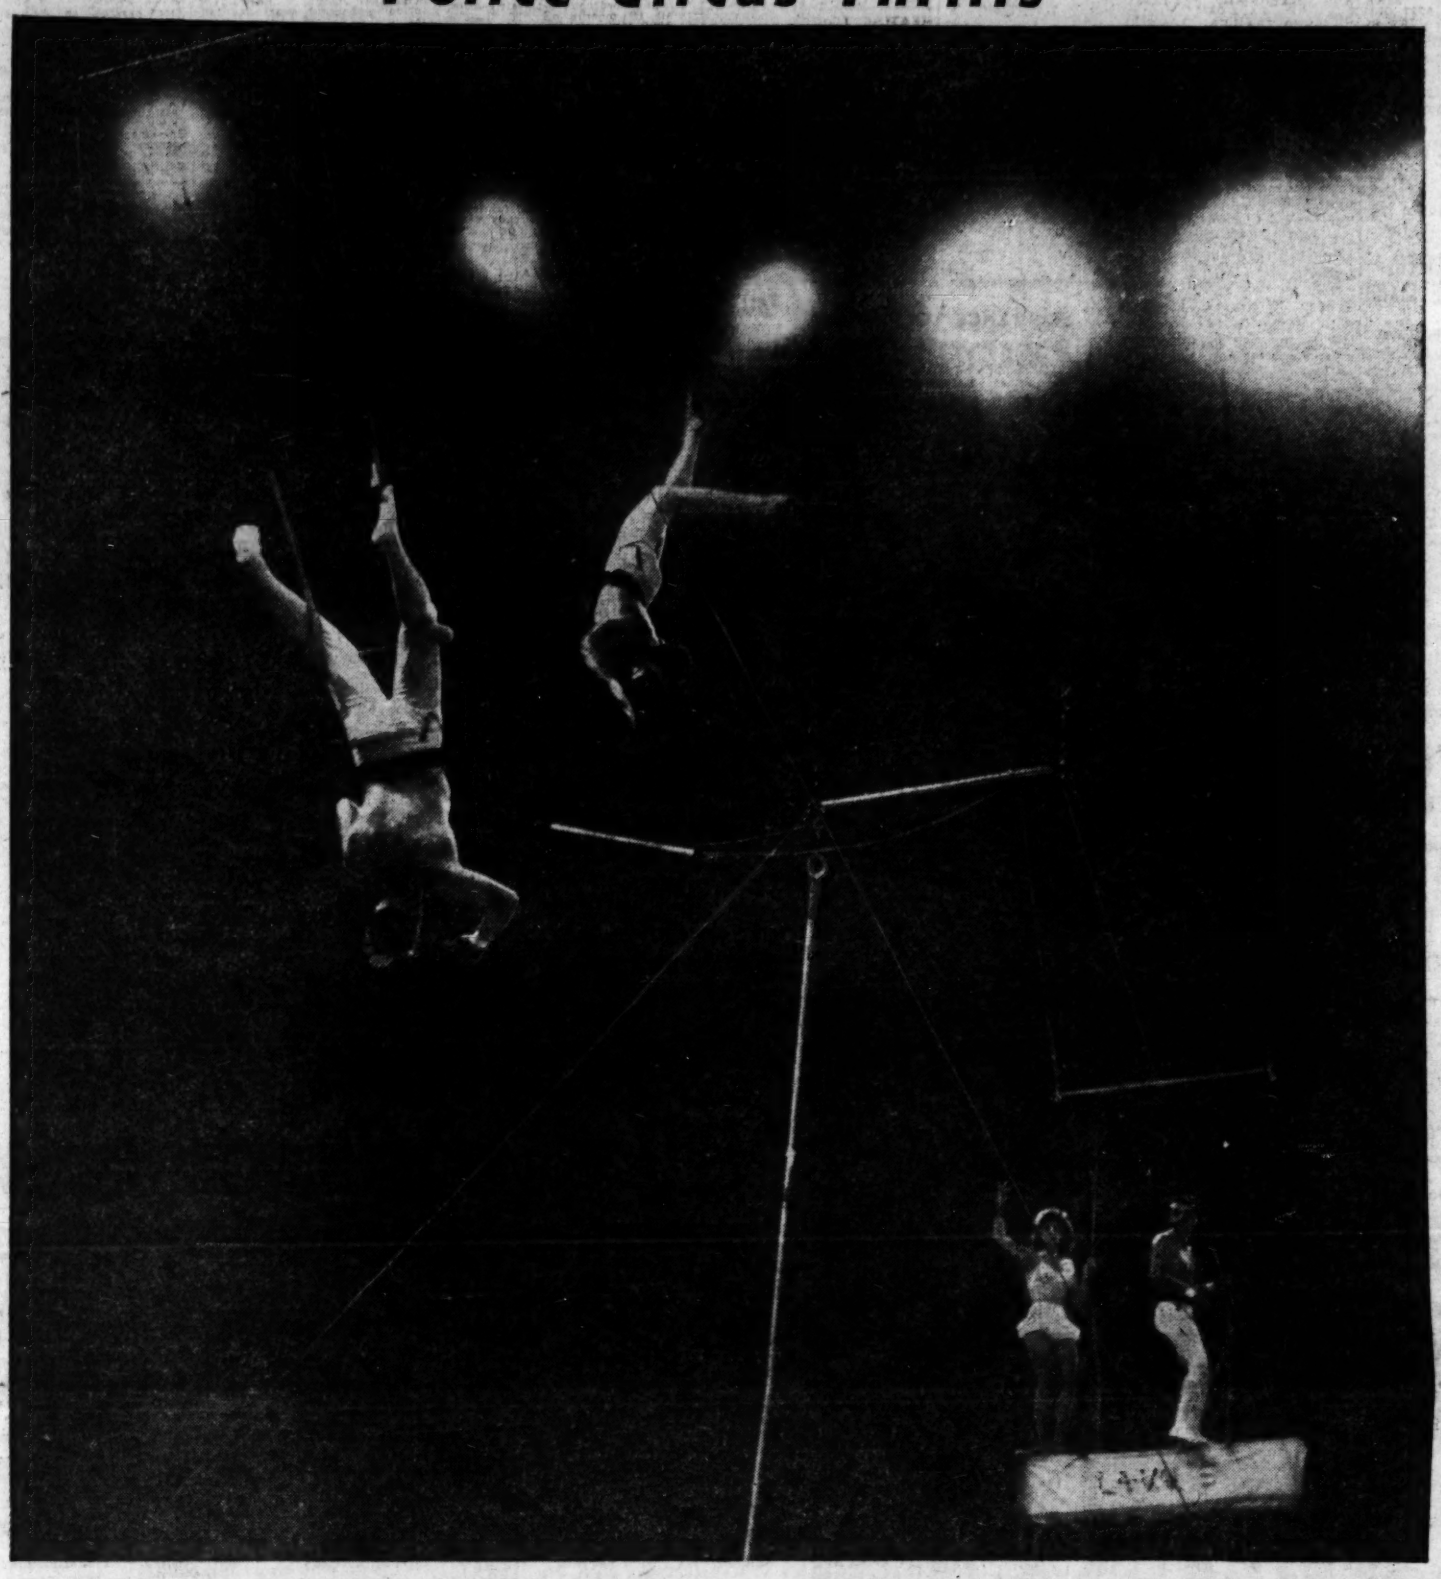
Police Circus Thrills



Moment of high altitude tension under the bright lights at The Arena as members of the Flying Lavals soared through their routine at the annual Police Circus last night. The Lavals are one of 30 acts in the show which got away to a 10-day run yesterday afternoon. About 17,000 persons watched yesterday's performances of the circus, proceeds of which go to Police Relief Association for families of policemen killed or injured in line of duty.

PRESENTS FROM PRESIDENT

Gifts from President Eisenhower—sharp and gleaming penknives—bring delight to their recipients, Jonathan (left) and Darrell Salk. They were given the knives when they accompanied their father, Dr. Jonas Salk, to the White House yesterday for ceremony in which he received a presidential citation for his development of the anti-polio vaccine.

DERELICT VETERAN ACTOR

Former movie star Bela Lugosi discussing his present unhappy state in interview at Los Angeles hospital yesterday. Lugosi said he had become addicted to narcotics after using a drug for sedative purposes for many years. Broke and in poor health, after a career in which he was noted for portrayal of sinister movie characters, Lugosi was granted admission to a state hospital.

NIAGARA TOURIST BOATS BURNED

Smoke and steam drift from hulks of the two Maid of the Mist tourist boats after fire swept through them in drydock at Niagara Falls, Ont., yesterday. The boats, used for sightseeing tours at the base of Niagara Falls, were being given final touches in extensive reconditioning program when a worker's torch touched off the blaze. Boats were valued at about $300,000.

AMISH SCHOOL LOST IN FLAMES

Clad in the plain garb that distinguishes their religious sect, boys of the Amish community in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, watch dying embers of the fire which destroyed their school. Only huge coal stove was left standing after flames swept through the one-room building which was built in the 1870s.

9000 AT OPENING OF POLICE CIRCUS

30 Acts Presented at Arena —Performances to Run Through May 1.

A near-capacity audience of 9000 children and adults watched the magic of the big top as the Police Circus opened at the Arena yesterday for a 10-day run.

Highlights among the 30 acts presented in and over the show's three rings were performances by the Flying Lavals, trapeze artists; Les Geraldos, a French high-wire team; Chet Juszyk and his 15 snarling African lions and Jack Joyce and his performing camels.

Children screamed and their elders gasped as Ray Valentine of the Flying Lavals missed a mid-air catch twice, falling about 50 feet into a net. Valentine and a partner then repeated the somersault catch blindfolded.

Clowns, sparked by veteran funnyman Happy Kellems, supplied comedy relief. As usual, Kellems tried—with at least partial success—to steal the show from the St. Louis police quartet by aping the uniformed group which sang three selections.

Finale to the afternoon was given by Rasini and his "rocket car." Starting high at the top of a curved slide, Rasini rode the car into a speeding end-over-end turn and landed in a large trampoline.

The show will run through Sunday, May 1, with nightly performances at 8 o'clock except on the two Sundays, when it starts at 6:30. Matinees at 2 p.m. are scheduled for today, tomorrow and next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Adult general admission tickets are $1.50; children from age 5 to 12 are admitted for 49 cents. Proceeds go to wives and orphans of policemen disabled or killed in line of duty.

'ACTOR BELA LUGOSI IN HOSPITAL AS NARCOTICS ADDICT

LOS ANGELES, April 23 (AP)—Bela Lugosi has been classified under the law as a narcotic addict and committed to a state hospital—at his own request.

The star of "Dracula" and scores of other horror movies went to General Hospital Wednesday and asked to be sent to Norwalk Metropolitan Institution.

At a psychopathic court hearing yesterday the emaciated actor, 72 years old, told how he started using morphine to deaden leg pains 20 years ago. He said he gave up morphine but used various other drugs thereafter.

Superior Judge Wallace L. Ware commended the actor for "voluntarily seeking correction of this drug addiction."

"God bless you, Judge," Lugosi replied.

COLUMBIA U. MEN TO ATTEND FETE AT MOSCOW U.

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Columbia University will send two representatives to Moscow University's 200th anniversary celebration May 7-15.

Two Soviet educators attended Columbia's bicentennial last year.

Columbia announced yesterday it was sending Dr. Richard R. Powell, professor of law and Dr. J. Bartlet Brebner, professor of history now at Cambridge University, England, on a year's leave.

Powell is scheduled to leave here May 3 and meet Brebner in England. The two will go together to Moscow.

LOUIS BERRA'S CONVICTION UPHELD BY APPEALS COURT

Conviction of Louis Berra, former AFL Teamsters Union officer, last October on charges of income tax evasion and obstruction of justice, was upheld by the United States Court of Appeals in a ruling handed down yesterday.

Berra, found guilty by a jury in United States District Judge Rubey M. Hulen's court, is serving a four-year term in federal prison at Terre Haute, Ind., on the three-count evasion charge, involving $1425. Judge Hulen suspended sentence on two counts of the obstruction charge, ordering a five-year probation to begin on Berra's release from prison.

The appellate court dismissed one of the obstruction counts, on the ground that a government witness whom Berra tried to influence was not under subpena when the alleged influencing took place.

QUEEN MOTHER ELIZABETH ON FIRST HELICOPTER FLIGHT

WINDSOR, England, April 23 (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth made her first helicopter flight today. She flew from Windsor Great park to the Royal Air Force station at Biggin Hill.

At Biggin Hill, half an hour by helicopter from Windsor Castle, the Queen Mother inspected royal auxiliary air force units.

MARTIN C. HINES FUNERAL

Funeral services for Martin C. Hines, a Union Electric Co. lineman for 42 years and long active in Democratic political organizations here, will be Monday at 9 a.m. at St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Church, 4317 South Kingshighway. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mr. Hines, 64 years old, died of cancer yesterday at Missouri Baptist Hospital after an illness of six months. He lived at 4984A Tholozan avenue. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Arthur R. Love, 1550 Grant Ridge lane, Crestwood, and a son, William Martin Hines, of the Tholozan avenue address.

PRESIDENT JOINS WIFE AT FARM FOR WEEKEND OF REST

GETTYSBURG, Pa., April 23 (AP) — President Eisenhower had a chance today to see how his wife has been getting along with the furnishing of their new farm home.

The President drove from Washington late yesterday for a weekend of rest and perhaps a round or two of golf.

Awaiting Mr. Eisenhower was his wife who has been at their 189-acre farm since March 31, recuperating from a respiratory infection. She also has been furnishing the restored farmhouse. The President plans to return to Washington tomorrow, but it was not known whether Mrs. Eisenhower would drive back with him.

His departure from the White House yesterday was delayed about an hour by unscheduled conferences with Herbert Hoover Jr., under secretary of state, and Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations. James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, declined to say whether the sessions with Hoover and Carney had anything to do with the Formosa situation.

THREATS ON LIFE OF EDEN BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN HOAX

LONDON, April 23 (AP)—Authorities now believe that recent threats on the life of Sir Anthony Eden were a hoax. The warnings, telephoned the day Eden became Prime Minister, led police to set up a special guard to protect him.

Scotland Yard reported last night that the precautions were relaxed earlier this week. They had been in force since April 6, when Eden received his appointment from Queen Elizabeth II.

While the new Prime Minister was at Buckingham palace, police sources said, an anonymous caller told Scotland Yard: "Two men will try desperately to injure Eden this afternoon. This is not a hoax. Watch out!"

Authorities stationed extra guards at Eden's home and at No. 10 Downing street, the official residence of prime ministers. Bodyguards were assigned to watch over him.

SAYS 'SICK LEAVE' IN POSTAL SERVICE COSTS MILLIONS

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Government investigators reported today that "widespread abuses" of sick leave by Post Office workers are costing the taxpayers millions of dollars a year for substitutes.

There is a general belief among postal workers, the General Accounting Office said, that paid "sick leave may be used whenever a day off is desired."

The report, sent to the House Post Office Committee, cited abuses of sick and administrative leave in the postal service, and said adequate controls are needed to stop the practice.

Federal employes are entitled to 13 days of sick leave a year. This is cumulative. If an employe has 10 years of service, he is entitled to 130 days of sick leave, less any time out he has taken for illness.

MAN WITH PISTOL SEIZED, DEMANDED TO SEE NIXON

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested Clifford W. Bryan of Los Angeles yesterday after, they said, Bryan had phoned Vice President Nixon's office several times demanding an appointment.

He was charged with illegal possession of a gun and turned over to Washington police. The agents said he made no threats against Nixon.

The Secret Service said Bryan mentioned in his phone conversations several times that he had in his possession a .38-caliber revolver.

The Secret Service said Bryan did not mention the weapon in connection with the Vice President nor did he threaten anybody directly or indirectly.

FRESHMAN SAYS HE ROBBED BANK FOR DATE MONEY

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 23 (AP) — A University of Kansas freshman charged with robbing a bank was quoted by the Kansas City Star yesterday as saying he did it because he "wanted to have dates and money like other boys."

Byron Eugene Byerley, 18 years old, of near Centerville, Kan., was bound over for trial in United States district court and jailed in default of $15,000 bond.

Byerley is accused of robbing the Centerville State Bank of about $400 on the night of April 19. He allegedly went to the home of the cashier and forced the cashier at gunpoint to accompany him to the bank and give him the money.

The Star quoted Byerley as saying he had owed about $300 and had planned the robbery "off and on" for several weeks. He said he acted after finding himself with only $1 in his pocket.

Byerley was arrested after Bill Troyer of Harper, Kan., president of the Acacia fraternity at the university, became suspicious after hearing police descriptions of the getaway car used by the bank robber. The description matched that of a car Byerley had borrowed from another student that night on the pretext of using it for a date. Troyer notified authorities and lifted Byerley's fraternity pledge pin yesterday.

Dr. Joseph I. Pascal Dies.

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Dr. Joseph I. Pascal, internationally known ophthalmologist, died yesterday after a brief illness. He was 65 years old. He was the author of three books and more than 250 papers on functions and diseases of the eye.

Martha Carr's OPINION

REG U. S. PAT. OFF.

Today's column is devoted to teen-agers who are invited to submit their problems to Martha Carr.

Dear Martha:

I AM 17 and go with a boy the same age. Every time we go out he always wants to bring another couple which is all right with me until he and his friends begin to act like children. When we go out alone he acts like a gentleman. He always asks these two friends about things we should do instead of asking me. I am beginning to think he thinks more of them than of me. He always does what they want to do. In spite of this I still love him very much. Some of my friends say I should quit him, then maybe he will wake up. Do you think I'm making a mistake by continuing to date him?

R. I.

He may have the idea that anything he suggests, or the friends suggests, is all right with you. Why don't you speak up occasionally, whether he asks you or not, and say you would like to plan a certain kind of evening, or see a certain movie or be with a particular couple? If he refuses or acts sullen, then you'd have good reason to talk it out and tell him you would like to be considered once in awhile. He may not be aware that he is offending you, so give him a chance before you toss him overboard.

★ ★ ★

Dear Martha:

I WILL SOON BE 14. I like the boy who lives up the street and everyone says he likes me. One time I went to a party at his house and he told me he liked me, and when I went home he said he would call me the next day, but he didn't. He is a bashful boy but not that bashful. I have not gone out with other boys since. Should I still like him or should I go out with other boys? TEEN-AGER.

Why sit at home and wait for a telephone call? Certainly you should be going out with other boys, if your parents approve of your dating. Try not to take it too seriously when a boy goes through the "I'll call you" routine. Sometimes he means it, and the telephone rings in a hurry. But don't let the silence break your heart.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO Jess: Ask your dad to talk to your mother for you. He doesn't want you to be a mama's boy, but that's what you'll become if she won't let you grow up.

★ ★ ★

IN ANSWER TO Joan: Personally, I think it would be far better to wait for the boys to ask you to the movie. There's no reason not to invite them to your home for a party, if your parents approve, but they should have the right to issue an invitation for a date which will cost them money.

Teen-agers: Send for Martha Carr's free leaflets, "E for Etiquette" and "Popularity for Girls." Please inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

At the Movies

By Myles Standish

Realism or Distortion?

M-G-M, through Director-Writer Richard Brooks, has made its "BLACKBOARD JUNGLE," at LOEW'S STATE THEATER, as shocking as possible in depicting teen-age delinquency in a boys' metropolitan vocational high school. English teacher Glenn Ford finds himself with a classroom full of hulking, over-grown Dead End kids, insolent and uncontrollable. The very first day of the term, one attempts to attack a pretty woman history teacher. Seven of them waylay Ford and another man teacher in an alley and beat them brutally (the victims clam up and refuse to identify the attackers for the police). They smash one teacher's jazz record collection and phonograph. One sends poison-pen letters to Ford's pregnant wife (Anne Francis). In a classroom showdown, one young gangster pulls a switchblade knife on Instructor Ford and attempts to stab him.

This has been strongly and graphically done, with Mr. Ford turning in his usual low-key naturalistic performance of convincing force. So the idea is that this represents stark realism. But does it? The dictionary defines realism as "fidelity to nature or to real life." This has been angrily attacked by various educational organizations and educators as a distortion and exaggeration of the problem. M-G-M has answered by waving press clippings of actual violent misbehavior in high schools throughout the country. Yes, but these were widely scattered. They did not occur in one school, one classroom in a few months. That method could be used to justify any absurdity as fact.

Almost anything is possible, of course. Students in slum areas may tend to be tougher than in more genteel districts. But it is patently far-fetched that such general anarchy could prevail in any one school unless that were made a dumping ground for all undesirables in the city schools, a sort of public reform school. No such claim is made, and if that were the case, most certainly sterner methods would be employed to discipline the rowdies and brutes. Yet, as Ford's classroom is depicted, only one student, a meek boy, is anything but a sneering, unruly rebel. The script attempts to hedge by injecting a remark that only one school in a hundred is like this—but that doesn't compensate for what looks like deliberate sensationalism by M-G-M.

The foreword also hedges by announcing this adaptation of a novel by Evan Hunter, a former teacher in a high school, is "fictitious," but then goes on piously to say parents should be warned of the dangers of delinquency. But does it serve any purpose outside the box-office to distort the situation, as here, instead of delineating it accurately? Won't a film of this sort, which makes a hero of one of the leaders of the anarchists (Sidney Potier) and has the teacher practically beg for his support, inspire some less discriminatory teen-agers to emulate the rowdiness and defiance? I also suspect M-G-M of hypocrisy.

A Cinderella Whimsey

At the other Loew's house, the ORPHEUM, we have another M-G-M picture at the opposite extreme, a delicate and whimsical depiction of the Cinderella story, called "THE GLASS SLIPPER." Leslie Caron carries on her gamin style as the slavey Cinderella. Michael Wilding is the amiable Prince. Estelle Winwood is the fairy godmother, depicted as an old kleptomaniac in the neighborhood, and Elsa Lanchester is the crabby stepmother. Helen Deutch's script makes much of the weaving of the whimsey palatable, and there is some striking color and a couple of enchanting dream ballets by Miss Caron and the Ballet De Paris. But for all its moments of fragile charm, there are also moments when the effort seems tenuous and slow. Unlike Miss Caron's "Lili," her Cinderella is only a character in a fairy story—she never really clutches at your heart.

My Day

Tribute to Einstein as Human Being

By Eleanor Roosevelt

NEW YORK.

SO far I have said nothing about Prof. Albert Einstein's death—but that hasn't been because I didn't want to. His recent passing came as a shock to me just as it must have come to anyone who had the privilege of meeting this unforgettable personality.

Years ago he and Mrs. Einstein stayed with us briefly in the White House. He seemed to me a gentle person, but, on the other hand, where his beliefs and convictions were concerned he showed both vigor and courage.

In the last few years he used to tell his more timid friends that he found himself obliged to engage in "subversive" activities! This was, of course, a reaction to Senator McCarthy's efforts which so closely resembled some of the things he had watched come about in Germany and which he certainly did not want to see fasten themselves on the life of his adopted country.

★ ★ ★

I AM UNABLE, of course, to speak of Prof. Einstein as a scientist, but I would like to pay him my tribute as a human being.

Great honors, much fame and wide acclaim came his way but these things never turned his head. He was a simple, sincere, courageous human being.

The world is the poorer for his going but his memory will live on, both in his fields of interest and in the hearts of those who admired the way he stood for his beliefs.

★ ★ ★

IN MARCH of 1953 the United States made a gesture, a small and friendly gesture, to the people of Japan which I am sure will bring back to us much good feeling.

During the war Tokyo's 3000 cherry trees of 70 varieties all died because of a blight and of wartime neglect. From that mother stock in 1912 there had been sent to us 3000 saplings from the famous grove on the banks of the Arakawa, in Tokyo's Adachie ward. For many years now people from all over the country have gone to Washington to see the cherry blossoms around the Potomac tidal basin.

The people of Tokyo missed their cherry trees and their spring blossoms, and so in 1952 we sent 40 grafts, five each from eight varieties by air to Tokyo. They were grafted from 100 seedlings in the metropolitan nursery. Last November they were replanted, together with 3000 aboriginal seedlings which were grown separately, along the banks of the Arakawa. This years the grafts from Washington are blossoming for the first time on seedlings which are almost 13 feet high.

The people of Japan love beauty, and I think this little exchange may do a great deal to cement the friendship between our two countries.

Dog Notes

By Peter Boggs

THE QUESTION BOX.

QUESTION: I want a dog that can be used to hunt birds, rabbits and retrieve ducks. Do you know of any breed of dog that can do all this? R. L. N.

ANSWER: A breed that might do all this for you is the German Shorthaired Pointer.

★ ★ ★

QUESTION: If a dog has dew claws does that mean he is a mongrel? T. P.

ANSWER: No. Even the purest of dog strains often have dew claws.

Tasty Tricks

You'll always welcome cole slaw made this way: Combine shredded cabbage with carrots, some grated onion and celery seed. Mix with a home-made salad dressing on the tart side.

Frankfurter Dish

By Edith M. Barber

ONE WAY WAY TO ARRANGE A QUICK AND EASY MEAL IS TO SLICE UP SOME FRANKFURTERS AND SPREAD THEM ON TOP OF A DEEP PIE PLATE OF SAUERKRAUT. A PEAR AND CHEESE SALAD MAKES AN EXCELLENT SIDE DISH FOR THIS ONE.

OUR grandmothers considered sauerkraut a winter vegetable and prized it highly, as well they may have. It gave them the illusion that they were eating tender, young cabbage after the supply of the fresh fall cabbage had been exhausted.

The sauerkraut barrel had been scraped by late spring. Of course, it was impossible to purchase this product in canned form at the village store, as we do—nowadays. We find it convenient in spring and summer for occasional use, usually combined with frankfurters, the children's choice.

While we often buy frankfurters at the market for immediate use, very good canned smoked sausages are available. They have recently appeared among the frozen foods as well. A package or two can be kept on hand in the freezer or in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator.

A fruit salad is a good accompaniment for a combination dish of frankfurters and sauerkraut. Probably you will choose one of the sweeter fruits, such as pears. Almost every child can be persuaded to eat greens if a pear half topped with a ball of cream or cottage cheese accompanies them.

If there is time for the baking, there is nothing better than potatoes that need no attention while the other preparations for the meal are being made. Crusty, hard roles belong with a meal of this sort.

Sauerkraut With Diced Frankfurters.

Arrange sauerkraut in deep pie plate. Cut frankfurters into one-inch pieces and arrange on top. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Pear and Cheese Salad.

Drain pear halves and chill. Prepare French dressing. Roll cream cheese into balls and sprinkle with paprika. Place pear half on bed of greens. Top each halve with cheese ball and sprinkle with French dressing.

Designing Woman

Be Sure They Match

By Elizabeth Hillyer

HOW good a match can slipcovers and draperies be? Even when they're made of the same fabric, they may seem hardly a match at all. Many fabrics look very different flat from the way they look hanging in folds. The folds break up the pattern so much that they also break up the resemblance between the draperies and the flat slipcover surfaces.

Try draping the fabric that appeals at first glance. This may change your mind—you may want to look farther for a pattern that draping doesn't change. Fortunately, there are many of them in the stores right now, patterns like Light and Shade, sketched at right. The designers plan them for the fabrics that are equally good for both slipcovers and draperies, so the two together really match each other in the room.

MRS. T. S. "I've been told that mirror should be hung opposite a window so it reflects the view. What should be done in the case of corner windows in a bedroom?"

While hanging mirror to reflect a view is a good idea, it cannot be a rule because there are too many other points to consider in convenience and good looks of the room, which may dictate hanging the mirror otherwise.

Do you buy for your home according to plan? Or do you buy hit-and-miss and make unhappy mistakes? Send for planning advice from an expert, Elizabeth Hillyer's new leaflet called "SEVEN POINT PLAN FOR HOME FURNISHINGS BUYING." It's yours for the asking and a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent with your request to Miss Hillyer at the Post-Dispatch.

Brain Game

HERE is a literary quiz. Three correct answers is excellent.

1. In Poe's poem did the raven come to visit in March or December?

2. Is "The Vicar of Wakefield" about the Primroses or the Micawbers?

3. Did Lin Yutang write "Dragon Seed" or "The Importance of Living"?

4. Is Dirk De Jong a character in "Treasure Island or "So Big"?

5. Willie Baxter barks like a dog in what famous story?

ANSWERS.

1. December. 2. The Primroses. 3. "The Importance of Living." 4. "So Big." 5. "Seventeen."

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

THE only observation worth making about South's performance in the deal below is that "some people don't know what to do with their luck."

South, dealer.

	♠Q73 ♥10865 ♦J4 ♣QJ73
♠KJ1062 ♥732 ♦952 ♣84	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠A9854 ♥K ♦AQ108 ♣1092
	♠— ♥AQJ94 ♦K763 ♣AK65

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♥	Pass	2♥	Dble.
6♥(!)	Pass	Pass	Dble.
Pass	Pass	Pass

Granting that South had a strong hand, he nevertheless was shooting at the moon when he leaped all the way to the slam over North's single raise, and in the face of East's takeout double. Particularly because of the North-South 40 part-score, North's raise had not guaranteed any substantial strength, and South could scarcely know (without a crystal ball) that he would find precisely the right material and the right distribution opposite him.

However, perhaps there is a law of compensation: South "blew" the contract.

West opened the spade jack, and declarer ruffed East's ace. Dummy was then entered with a club, and on the trump return, East's blank king fell. South then led a low heart to the 10 and returned the diamond jack. East put up the ace and led a spade. South again ruffed, then cashed the diamond king, ruffed a diamond on the table, returned to a high club and ruffed his last diamond—and then couldn't get out of the dummy. If he led another club, West would ruff; and if he himself ruffed another spade, West would be left with the only trump.

South's timing of the play did not deserve commendation! Apparently he had never learned the rule of "first things first." To make the hand, he had to find both the ace of diamonds and the king of trumps right, hence his first move (after reaching dummy) should have been to lead a diamond. The trump finesse could wait.

Observe that this correct technique would have insured the ambitious slam. South simply wins one diamond trick and ruffs two diamonds, then finally leads a heart from the board with the intention of finessing. The appearance of East's king settles the matter.

Weekly Report On Public Health

By J. Earl Smith, M.D.

St. Louis Health Commissioner

LAST Tuesday 3000 St. Louis school children paraded through the downtown streets with mops, rakes, paint brushes, etc., to remind us that it is time to clean-up, paint-up and fix-up. Over the years our children have been taught the principle that clean, well-kept homes, yards and alleys are important to the American way of life.

The health division, too, believes wholeheartedly in this principle. But experience has shown that such an environment can only be achieved and maintained through the co-operation and active participation of everybody—children and adults alike—working at it day after day, year after year.

★ ★ ★

A CONTINUING clean-up program—we call it the "avalanche" project — has now become an important phase of the health division's environmental sanitation program.

Since the "avalanche" program started early last December, public health sanitarians have surveyed more than 135 city blocks. By this door-to-door canvass over 35,000 insanitary conditions have been found. Notices have been issued to the responsible parties on 5674 insanitary or illegal garbage cans, and 8911 illegal rubbish containers.

In a city the size of St. Louis the amount of rubbish and garbage produced each day is enormous. The health division is vitally concerned with the proper disposal of garbage and rubbish. If only a small part of this refuge is disposed of in an insanitary manner the health of the whole community may be endangered through the breeding of rats, flies, mosquitoes and other vermin so important in the transmission of certain diseases.

★ ★ ★

THE INSPECTORS are also directing attention to the correction of defective plumbing, the elimination of rank growths of weeds, and the removal of debris from basements, sheds, yards and alleys. Recommendations are made to tenants and owners to repair or remove dilapidated sheds and fences and to remove out-moded ashpits.

Answer to Question 1.

APPARENTLY the opposite. Psychologists Wattenberg and Saunders found that of 3451 boys and 1082 girls in the youth bureau of the Detroit police, that the boy offender was "greeted with forgiveness" in 28 per cent of the cases, but girls in only 7 per cent. They both need it equally. Only 5 per cent of the boys but 15 per cent of the girls were punished.

Answer to Question 2

No. Surgeon George Crile said, "We fear not in our hearts or brains alone, but in our entire viscera. Fear influences every organ and tissue." Experiments of Pavlov, Cannon, and others show that fear is the greatest of all destroyers. It destroys peace of mind, decreases all bodily and mental functions, and hastens death.

Answer to Question 3

Yes. If you think "politics" means "dirty politics," use the words "public affairs." Often the reason for dirty politics is that you—I mean YOU and I—don't go into public affairs and clean them up. Politics would mean a profound interest in your neighbor's welfare—both here and in Timbuctoo, a continuous nonpartisan effort to help your neighbor in such a way it would also help you and me.

Ham Tartines

Ingredients: Three-fourths cup finely ground cooked ham (firmly packed), ¼ cup mayonnaise, ¼ cup lightly drained chopped chutney, ½ teaspoon curry powder, eight slices fresh bread, extra mayonnaise, paprika.

Method: Mix together the ham, mayonnaise, chutney and curry powder. (Makes about one cup.) Trim crusts from bread. Cut each slice into four small triangles. Spread triangles with ham mixture. Place on cookie sheet, cover tightly with aluminum foil and refrigerate. At serving time remove from refrigerator, put a tiny dab of mayonnaise in the center of each tartine and sprinkle mayonnaise with paprika. Place cookie sheet of tartines in extremely hot (500 degrees) oven until heated through—five to eight minutes. Serve at once.

Fashionable Coats

Beige colored coats in tones that range from a very light hue to a golden shade are regarded as the most fashionable ones this season. The fleecy woolens and cashmere weaves are noteworthy. Many of the coats are cut with slim lines. Some have the wider, rounded collars although many follow the cardinal style with buttons from neckline to the hipline.

MAID OF THE MIST SHIPS BURN AT NIAGARA FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 23 (AP)—The two Maid of the Mist ships that carried countless tourists into the mists below Niagara Falls were destroyed by fire yesterday as they were being outfitted in drydock.

Fire Chief John C. Shapton of Niagara Falls collapsed while directing firefighting operations and died a short while later in a hospital.

Two of 26 workmen refurbishing the wooden vessels for the summer season suffered minor injuries helping to fight the fire. Authorities said sparks from a welders' torch ignited a tarred canvas covering both craft.

NOAH E. GRAY IS APPOINTED HEAD OF R-8 SCHOOL DISTRICT

Appointment of Noah E. Gray to a three-year term as superintendent of School District R-8, in southwest St. Louis county, was announced today by the district's Board of Education.

Gray, 33 years old, is superintendent of schools at Sikeston, Mo. He will take office July 1. He was graduate from Southeast Missouri Teachers' College and also obtained a master's degree from Washington University.

The new superintendent will succeed David A. Punch. The board recently declined to reappoint Punch when he rejected a one-year contract offer.

ELECTED BY REALTY GROUP

William A. Federer, 3863 Holly Hills boulevard, and Ray R. Dolan Sr., 9037 McKnight Woods, Richmond Heights, were elected vice presidents of the Missouri Real Estate Association yesterday at its convention business session at St. Joseph.

Federer, owner of a real estate firm bearing his name, and Dolan, partner in the Dolan Co. Realtors, were among 11 vice presidents elected. A change in the association's by-laws increased the number of vice presidents from three.

STORMS, TORNADO HIT SOUTHEAST MISSOURI

Twister Dips Into Lutesville, Heavy Wind Damage at Sikeston.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., April 23 (AP)—Violent winds and a small tornado cut a path of damaged buildings and uprooted trees through Southeast Missouri during a two-hour period late yesterday.

Incomplete damage estimates ranged from $500,000 to $800,000.

Heavy rain and hail followed the wind, forcing streams out of their banks.

Minor cuts were the only injuries reported by authorities in the storm-swept area.

Severe wind storms also battered northeast Arkansas. At Biggers, Ark., four houses were destroyed and 12 others damaged. Hail and rain fell in the area.

A tornado dipped into Lutesville, a community of 700 persons 30 miles west of Cape Girardeau, about 3 p.m., ripping shingles off 40 to 50 buildings. Two barns were demolished and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Filer was torn from its foundation.

The tornado just missed the Lutesville High School where the 350 pupils stayed at their desks because the storm came so suddenly.

Bollinger county sheriff T. E. Graham estimated damage in that area at $100,000.

The storm continued on a southeast path, striking again in the northeast part of Sikeston, about 30 miles south of here. The winds moved on toward Charleston, several miles farther south, before losing their force, but heavy, dark clouds continued to race back and forth across the sky, keeping residents on edge throughout the area.

Power Lines Down.

Power lines and telephone wires were knocked out in scattered areas.

At Sikeston a plane was damaged at the airport and one building under construction was blown down. Part of a warehouse was demolished by the wind. Auxiliary police were called to help in the damaged area.

Damage estimates at Sikeston ranged from $400,000 to $700,000. Nearly every house in the area suffered some damage.

SYRIA SAYS ISRAEL WOOS ARAB VILLAGERS

Voices Protest to U.N. on Refugees in Demilitarized Zone.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—Syria protested to the United Nations yesterday against "progressive Israelization" of about 350 Arab villagers in a demilitarized zone of the Syrian-Israeli frontier.

Syria said the villagers of Baqqara were woed by Israel with "education and medical care lavished on them with malicious intent."

The protest was included in a letter from the Syrian Foreign Ministry to Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U. N. Palestine truce chief, commenting on his January report on frontier conditions.

The residents of Baqqara fled from their homes to Syria in the 1948 Palestinian war but were allowed to return there under terms of a 1951 Security Council resolution.

Now, said Syria's letter, Syria cannot take them back again as refugees because Syria already has too many Arab refugees from Israel.

The letter, however, indicated that Syria might, under certaain circumstances, consider dividing the militarized zones with Israel.

Burns had proposed such partition as a means of eliminating trouble spots.

When the Palestine war ended, Syrian troops held the disputed territories on the Israeli side of the frontier. Israel wanted these forces withdrawn, but Syria refused. A compromise was reached by demilitarizing them.

The letter did not specify the conditions under which Syria would agree to partitioning the demilitarized zones, except to say that negotiations could be conducted by the Mixed Armistice Commission under U. N. chairmanship with a view to revising the admistice provisions. It suggested that Burns present a more detailed proposal for partition.

WOMAN MAKES GRANDSON ADMIT HOLDUPS TO POLICE

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)—A grandmother took her 17-year-old grandson to a police station and persuaded him to admit he and another youth robbed nine hotels in the last month.

The grandmother, Mrs. Katherine St. Leger, told police at Hyde Park station she acted after learning that police were looking for her grandson in connection with the holdups. He is James St. Leger, a high school student. Police later arrested Arthur Erickson, 18.

Police said the youths, who were held without charge, admitted robbing the hotels of $1058, four of them within one hour on April 11.

NATIONAL PRESIDENT GUEST OF MARINE AUXILIARY TONIGHT

Mrs. Luretta B. Noble of Cincinnati, national president of the Marine Corps League Auxiliary, will attend the first anniversary party of the St. Louis unit of the organization at 7 p.m. today at the Edgewater Club, 5500 South Broadway.

While in St. Louis she will confer with officers of the local unit on plans for the auxiliary's eighteenth annual convention Sept. 14 through 17 at Hotel Jefferson. About 200 persons are expected to attend the celebration tonight.

TRUMPETER HENRY BUSSE DIES OF HEART AILMENT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 23 (AP)—Henry Busse, nationally known orchestra leader and trumpet player, died of a heart ailment at a hotel today. He was 61 years old and lived in Los Angeles.

He was credited with originating the muted trumpet after starting out as a member of Paul Whiteman's band years ago. He was with Whiteman for 10 years and later formed his own orchestra.

WEEK'S CLOSING HOG TOP $17.25; LOW SINCE MAR. 18

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, April 23 (USDA weekly review of the livestock market).

Slight easement of early week pressure failed to effect much change from a 50c lower selling basis for steers and heifers, cows finishing the week Friday 50c or more higher, bulls steady with the previous Friday. Stocker and feeder steers finished weak. Vealers and calves were mostly steady, although commercial and good made late gains of $1 or more. Prime 1158 and 1107-lb. steers scored $27 and $26.75, most choice steers $23.25@24.50, good and low choice $20.50@23, commercial and low good $17@20. Medium and good quality stocker and feeder steers $18@21.25, a few choice $22@22.50. Good and choice heifers and mixed yearlings bulked at $19.50@23.25, choice 768 and 952-lb. mixed at $23.75. Commercial and good cashed at $17@19. Utility and commercial cows went at $12@15, largely $12.50 up late. A few good light yearling bulls went $16@19, utility and commercial bulls $13.50@15, heavy fat bulls $11.50@12.50. Prime vealers sold at $27 in a limited way, good and choice largely $19@25, commercial and good $15@20.

Compared with last Friday, barrows and gilts 180 lbs. up finished 50 to 75c lower, lighter weights steady to 25c lower and sows 50c to $1 lower. Top for the week was $18 on Wednesday, the Friday top at $17.25 being lowest since March 18. For the week, bulk of 180 to 220 lbs. sold at $16.75@17.75; 220-240 lbs. $16.50@17.50; 240 to 270 lbs. $16.25@17.25; 270-300 lbs. $15.75@16.75; 140 to 170 lbs. $16.25@17.25; sows 450 lbs. down $14@15; heavier sows $12.75@14.

Old crop slaughter lambs and slaughter ewes closed the week mostly 50c lower. Small lots of choice and prime wooled lambs brought $20.50@21.50, sizable consignments from the southwest at $20.25@20.75. Most good and choice sold at $20@20.50, some 115 to 130 lbs. $19@19.50. Two decks summer shorn lambs cashed at $19.50 and $20, several decks choice 84 to 110 lb. shorn lambs, No. 1 and 2 pelts, at $19@19.50 and comparable grade with No. 2 and 3 pelts $17.75@18.50. Utility and good clipped brought $15@18, culls down to $12. Most choice and prime native spring lambs cashed at $22.50@23.50, a few lots $23.75@24; good and choice $21@22.50. Wooled slaughter ewes bulked at $6@7.50; shorn ewes $5@6.50.

STOCK MARKET LOSES EARLY WEEK UPTURN

Boost in Margins, Feared for Days, Announced After Close Friday.

By JOSEPH W. MICHALSKI
United Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, April 23 (UP)—A boost in margins, later confirmed by the Federal Reserve Board, forced stock prices down sharply on Friday, almost wiping out all of the gains registered earlier in the week.

The selling drive took place in the last hour of dealings with the railroad shares leading the way. At that time rumors were circulating widely in Wall Street that the Federal Reserve Board was thinking about raising the margins again.

After all the security markets were closed throughout the nation, the Federal Reserve announced that it was boosting margins from 60 per cent to 70 per cent. The last change in margins was made last Jan. 5, when they were boosted from 50 to 60 per cent.

Earlier in the week industrial shares rose to further new all-time high ground. Railroad equities reached new peaks since Oct. 26, 1929.

Warning to Speculators.

Some Wall Street quarters interpreted the latest move by the Federal Reserve as a "slap on the wirst" to speculators.

However, other street quarters were quick to point out that some of Friday's selling could be attributed to profit-taking because of the recent rise in prices which got underway right after Senator Fulbright's "friendly hearings" on the stock market.

The Dow-Jones industrial average finished the week with a gain of seven cents to $425.52; the rails tacked on a gain of 81 cents to $159.11; and the utilities were down 10 cents to $64.62. The general market average finished the week at $159.34, up 20 cents.

The industrial and rail averages set their highs this week on Wednesday.

Business continued on the favorable side. A number of corporations held their annual shareholders meetings this week. Stockholders generally were told that this was going to be a good year for business and the nation's economy on the whole.

Steel Shares Gain.

The Montgomery Ward proxy battle reached its climax this week. The outcome of the meeting was not expected to be known for about three weeks. However, Louis E. Wolfson conceded that Sewell Avery probably will retain control of the company. Wolfson said he expected to win three or four seats on the board of directors. Ward's stock finished the week with a loss of 1½ points to 78⅜. It met most of its selling late Friday.

Steel shares fared better than other groups. Bethlehem Steel was the star performer here. It spurted 5 points to 141. United States Steel rose 2 points to 85¼. Both United States Steel and Bethlehem Steel directors meet next week to take dividend action and at the same time will reveal first quarter earning results. Wall Street quarters expect whopping figures from both companies.

Railroad equities had gains ranging to more than a point on the week, despite Friday's dip. Atlantic Coast Line posted a gain of 2¾ points to 144¾. Illinois Central was up 1¼ points to 64. Santa Fe, however, slipped 2¾ points to 144¾. New Haven was also backward with a loss of 1½ points to 34¼.

Du Pont a Standard.

Du Pont stood out in the chemicals. It ran up 5¾ points to 181½. Allied Chemical fell 3½ points to 98¼.

Johns-Manville dropped 4¾ points to 86¾ despite higher earnings in the first quarter of this year.

Some of the oils were backward. Losses of more than a point each were registered by Gulf Oil, Ohio Oil and Texas Company. Standard Oil Company (N.J.) was up a point to 116⅜. Royal Dutch fell 3⅛ points to 77.

Motors were mostly mixed. General Motors finished the week with a small gain. Chrysler eased.

Metals moved downward with Anaconda leading the way with a loss of 3¼ points to 60¼.

Transactions were slightly above last week. They totaled 14,472,519 shares, compared with 14,338,025 a week earlier. On a daily average basis, they totaled 2,894,503 shares, against 2,867,605 shares in the preceding week.

OFFICERS MOVE UP

R. L. Blanke has been elected honorary chairman of the board of directors of Meyer-Blanke Co., E. R. Meyer chairman and C. G. Meyer, president. V. J. Krobath Sr., was made secretary-treasurer taking the place of Harry Blanke who retired.

Price Cuts in Ward New Book.

CHICAGO, April 23 (INS)—Montgomery Ward and Co. today is distributing its 1955 midsummer sale book to customers.

Price reductions averaged about 10 per cent on the seasonal goods listed in the catalog. Some price cuts ranged from 25 to 50 per cent.

Frisco March Income.

St. Louis-San Francisco Railway reported March balance, after fixed and contingent charges, was $1,339,944 compared with $574,183 year ago. Total operating revenues were $11,878,440 compared with $10,935,760 year ago. Railway operating income was $1,545,121 against $998,483.

Elected Firm Vice President.

Thomas W Pettus has been elected executive vice president of Scullin Steel Co. He formerly was vice president of American Brake Shoe Co.

A. E. Staley Mfg. Income.

DECATUR, Ill., April 23 (AP)—A. E. Staley Manufacturing Co. reported net income for three months ended March 31 of $946,945, equivalent to 51 cents a share, compared with $1,027,469 or 56 cents a share in the comparable 1954 quarter.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE.

THE news that Angela Gerrard was not her real sister changed Susan's plans like a magic wand. No longer must she feel morally responsible for the Cuban girl her parents had adopted 18 years ago. Within hours Susan was back in Washington, Papa Dominguez happily beaming at her side.

There was a dinner celebration for Susan, Papa and Nate Cox where the situation was not discussed except for Dominquez' quiet statement that he had written Angela the news, too.

"I think she will be relieved to know that she is a Latin by blood," he said.

"Yes," Nate said cordially. "And I might add we are delighted you are here to attend our wedding. I'm sure that Susan's parents would be happy to have you as their representative."

They were married at 4 o'clock on a cold March afternoon. Susan wore traditional white satin and a diaphanous veil, a prayer book and lilies of the valley in her hand.

Later Papa Dominquez waved them off at the airport as they left on the 6 o'clock plane for their honeymoon.

* * *

AS the plane took off Susan said, "Darling, I still don't know where we're going except that you told me to take warm clothes."

"You know perfectly well," Nate retorted. "You saw the signs at the airport."

Susan sighed contentedly. "Well, I didn't want to spoil your fun. But I've always wanted to go to Paris, Nate. Are you sure we're not spending too much money?

"Look here, my sweet," he replied kissing the tip of her nose, oblivious to the other passengers. "After our honeymoon you can start worrying about money but for the next three weeks, it's my problem."

"Nate," his wife said more thoughtfully. 'What will happen to Alan, I mean Anton Spivak, and Sonia and the others who were stealing A-bomb information?"

"I told you, Susan. Deportation for some. Long jail terms for others. The death penalty. . . ."

She shuddered. "I shouldn't have asked. I know you want to forget all this while you can."

"That's right. It's not going to be easy to be married to an FBI man, Susan. You'll have to steel yourself against asking questions. I'll be gone for weeks at a time. You won't know where I am or what I'm doing but I can't quit, honey. They need me. We'll have to have two separate lives. Mine with the Government and ours at the farm."

* * *

HER mind flew back to the farm in New England Nate had told her about. She know that such a life for some women would be impossible but in Susan Gerrard was the sturdy spirit of a pioneer woman. She would not only manage, she would be happy in doing so. And some day when Nate would retire, they could be together for always.

"Why so silent?" Nate inquired. "Sorry?"

"No," Susan said honestly. "I was thinking about us, and wondering if Angela will ever find our kind of happiness."

"She will," he predicted, "but in her own way. That is a closed chapter, too. You learn in the FBI never to look back; to forget completely when a case is closed."

She leaned against his shoulder, her hair like bright silk against his coat. "I'll remember, darling," she promised. "I'll remember the rest of our lives."

And while the plane sped over the gray waters of the Atlantic, far away in Lima, the lovely capitol of Peru, Angela Gerrard was in her dressing room preparing to go on for her first number at the Carrillo hotel.

She had received the letter from Roderiges Domingues telling her of her Latin heritage and she had been passionately glad to know the truth. As he predicted the girl had long felt the emotional differences between her and her sister and now she could understand why.

No longer was it necessary for her to pretend to be something she wasn't, not that Angela had ever tried very hard in this direction. But now, without reservations, she was Angela, the Cuban, the entertainer, the tempestuous. She smiled as she arranged the headdress of flowers on her dark hair. Even the scar Ricky Martinez had torn across her heart would heal.

A moment later Angela was singing, swaying provocatively before the microphone. Ardently young and yet with a strange maturity, she unconsciously brought every masculine eye in the room to herself. Once more she was ready for adventure, wiser this time, but still seeking her own idea of romance.

The audience as if sensing and understanding the turmoil in her heart applauded wildly and Angela, bowing graciously, her dark eyes full of unashamed tears of emotion knew that once more she was master of her fate and her future.

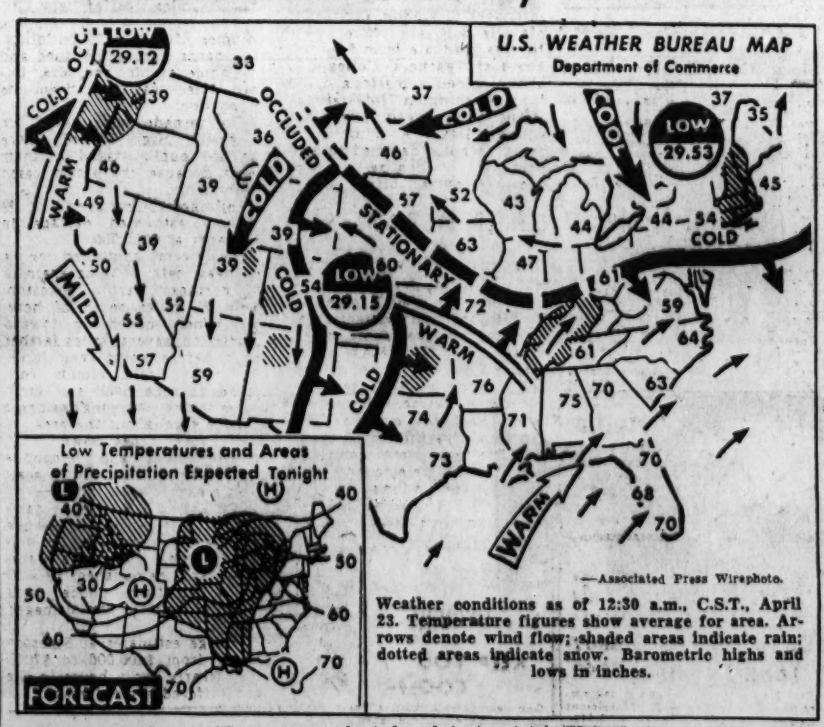
Showers Should End by Tomorrow



—Associated Press Wirephoto.

Weather conditions as of 12:30 a.m., C.S.T., April 23. Temperature figures show average for area. Arrows denote wind flow; shaded areas indicate rain; dotted areas indicate snow. Barometric highs and lows in inches.

April's refreshing showers should end in the St. Louis area by tomorrow morning, Meteorologist Harry F. Walgren said. He predicted somewhat cooler weather tomorrow, but said temperatures still will be moderate through Monday.

Rain, which was general in the state, measured .55 of an inch here in the 24-hour period ending early today, bringing total precipitation to 9.09 inches as compared with normal, 10.87. Heavy falls included 3.04 at Evansville, Ill.; 1.07 at Abilene, Tex.; 1.42 at Paducah, Ky.; 1.33 at Marble Hill, Mo.; 1.32 at Alton, and 1.02 at Lambert-St. Louis Field.

Minimum temperatures in Missouri ranged this morning from 59 at Kirksville to 71 at Kansas City, Joplin and Farmington. Lowest reported by the Weather Bureau was 10 at West Yellowstone Park, Mont. Highest in the nation yesterday were 100 at Laredo and 102 at Presidio, both in Texas.

Wahlgren said skies will be generally fair in St. Louis Monday, with temperatures rising from the low 50s to the upper 70s.

Uncle Ray's Column

By Ramon Coffman

ON every clear night, we see many hundreds of stars shining in the sky. In addition to those which can be told apart clearly, a vast number produce the lighted pathway known as the Milky Way.

Let a telescope be turned on the sky, and there will be a big increase in the number of stars which can be seen. The larger the telescope, the more stars come into view.

* * *

"HOW LONG does it take for light to get to us from a star?

If we count our sun as a star, it is "close" in a sense of the word. It sends light to us in only eight and one third minutes.

We hardly can say that planets are true stars, but some of them look like bright stars. Their distance changes as time goes by. On some nights, the beautiful planet Venus sends us light in less than three minutes. Mars, at times, sends us light in about four minutes. The big planet Jupiter reflects light to us in as little as 40 minutes.

All the planets reflect sunshine to us. The true stars, on the other hand, produce their own light. Light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second.

* * *

OUTSIDE of our solar system, the closest stars are Alpha Centauri and Proxima Centauri. These send out light which reaches us in less than four and a half years.

Alpha Centauri is bright enough to see without the help of a telescope, but it is outside the view of most persons in North America or Europe. It can be seen from various points around the Gulf of Mexico, but is out of sight north of Jacksonville.

The bright star Sirius has about twice the diameter of the sun. Its light reaches us in nine years.

Arcturus, another beautiful star, sends us light in 41 years. Betelgeuse, a gigantic star in Orion, is so far away that we see its light only after the passing of 190 years.

With great telescopes and other instruments of the present age, we are able to see and measure stars which are so far away that their light takes millions of years to reach us.
